SORE FROM KNEE TO ANKLE.

Skin entirely gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg diminished one third in size. Condition Hopeless. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your Cuticura Remedies, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Slow Progress in the House on the Tariff Bill.

THE LEADING LABOR BILL PASSED.

Complete List of the Changes That Have Been Made in the Mills Bill by the Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The conference report on O'Neill's bill to create a department of labor was accepted, and the bill passed substantially as it came from the senate.

The house proceeded to consider the report of the committee of the whole on the legislative appropriation bill.

Later the house went into committee of the whole to consider the tariff bill by sections for amendment, under the five-minute rule.

Adams of Illinois offered an amendment to make the bill take effect January 1 next, instead of July 1.

The debate drifted to the question of lumber, and Kelley spoke for the Southern lumber interests, as he said no one on the democratic side cared to do it. He pleaded with the house not to impoverish the poor people of Tennessee and South Carolina, and decrease the value of their splendid lands by making lumber free.

Weaver of Iowa, protested against any action that would fasten a lumber trust upon the farmer, and rob the consumer.

Parker of New York, offered an amendment proposing to substitute November 30, 1889, for the date given in the section; rejected, yeas 80, nays 134. The democrats applauded the announcement of the vote.

Boutelle proposed to make the date in the Adams amendment 1890, instead of 1889; rejected.

Breckenridge of Kentucky, had read an extract from a speech delivered by Mr. Blaine in 1868, in which he said it never had been the policy of the American government to tax breadstuff or lumber, and representing the need of the workingman for lumber. This was received with applause on the democratic side.

McKinley of Ohio, asked if Blaine's remarks had not been directed to internal taxation, and not to imports.

Breckenridge said he did not know which, but the speech was directed against a tax on lumber.

McKinley—It was directed against a tax on American lumber, and not against foreign lumber [republican applause.]

White, of Indiana, gave notice that he would vote against every clause of the bill that proposed to encourage importations of goods our own labor could produce.

Struble, of Iowa, stated that when the dutiable sections of the bill were reached, he would move to strike them out and substitute the rates fixed by the existing law, less 50 per cent.

McKinley, of Ohio, recurred to the subject of Blaine's speech, which had been cited earlier in the day. He had looked up debates, and would state positively that Blaine's remarks had reference to internal tax.

Breckenridge argued that the same principle held good in the case of any tax upon production.

Reed, of Maine, said the gentleman from Kentucky had offered the democratic party an opportunity to do what they had so grudgingly done, give Blaine a round of applause.

Kelley asked if the gentleman (Breckenridge) knew that Blaine had used that argument against internal revenue when he cited it as an argument against customs tax.

Breckenridge—The gentleman assumes what is untrue. I did not state that Blaine used those remarks about customs duties.

Kelley—That was the impression created.

Mills asked that the debate on this section be considered as closed, but objection was made and he moved that the committee rise. This prevailed—122 to 83—the republicans solidly opposing the motion.

The committee rose, not having passed over the first five lines of the bill.

McKinley of Ohio and Spinola of New York, who held the report from the military committee, sought to secure consideration of the bill to revive the rank of general of the army, to be filled by Lieut.-Gen. Sheridan, but objection was made by Kilgore of Texas and other democrats, and the house at 5 o'clock adjourned.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Passage of the Bill to Create a Department of Labor.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Among the measures reported from committees and placed on the senate calendar this morning are the following: Senate bill to submit to the court of claims for adjudication the title of Wm. McGarrahan to the mineral interests of the Panoche Grande rancho in California (with a minority report by Faulkner); senate bills to accept and ratify an agreement with the Shoshone and Sheep Eater tribes of Indians for the surrender of portions of their reservations; house bill supplementary to the Pacific railroad act of 1862, with amendments. House bill for payment of the passage of the Marquis of Lafayette and his family from France to the United States, in 1824, (adversely).

The conference report on the bill to establish a department of labor was agreed to.

DEFENSE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Berry, in arguing in support of the Des Moines river land bill, took occasion to reply to remarks of Stewart, reflecting on the attorney general in connection with private land claims in California. He denied that the senator from Nevada had any right to impute evil motives to the attorney general. That officer was a patriotic statesman and an honest man.

Stewart said he had no disposition to impute improper motives to the attorney general, but as the matter was thus again brought up, he desired to state some facts, showing the great hardship and injury inflicted on many citizens of California by the official conduct of the attorney general. He proceeded to detail facts and circumstances in connection with the matter. He mentioned the name of R. O. Thompson as a lobbyist and volunteer attorney in cases, as a man who dictated proceedings, and would dictate compromises, and asked by what authority the attorney general farmed out cases to volunteer counsel, with power to put claimants under tribute. The attorney general in this way (he said) was striking a blow at the prosperity of a sovereign state. The act was a grand usurpation on the part of the attorney general which never ought to have been tolerated a moment. It was the alarming feature of the times. It absorbed the rights of the people, disturbed their property, interfered with private rights, was dangerous to the peace and liberties of the country and ought to be stopped.

ANOTHER DEFENSE.

Jones, of Arkansas, replied to Stewart, and gave the story of what he claimed to be frauds in connection with some California land grants. In view of the facts which he stated, he thought that the power of the [illegible] exercised [illegible] by Stewart was strongly justified. He declared there was no justification for the violent attack made by the senator from Nevada upon the attorney general. That senator could not have considered the gravity of his charge that the attorney general has "farmed out" [illegible] suits. The senator would not deliberately say that he believed any such thing.

At the close of this California diversion, which [illegible] the pending bill was resumed, and finally the discussion was closed, and the bill passed; yeas 28, nays 11.

Cullom gave notice that he would on Monday submit some remarks on the bill to amend the interstate commerce law.

The house joint resolution for a commission to select a site for a naval station on the Pacific Coast (with amendments), was passed.

On motion of Harris, it was ordered that to-morrow, after passing the Indian appropriation bill, the senate will take up and pass bills on the calendar, one objection to a bill preventing action on it.

After a brief executive session the senate adjourned.

WORK OF THE CAUCUS.

A Complete List of the Changes Made in the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Following is the official statement of the changes made by the democratic caucus to the tariff bill during its last three meetings:

Changes in the free list: Bags of jute for grain added, glue and all similar preparations, gelatine or isinglass, and licorice juice, stricken out; Paris green and nitrate of soda added; boneblack, ivory drop black and bone char, china clay, kaoline, dropped; German looking-glass plates added; plums, prunes, figs, hatters' furs not on the skin, marble of all kinds in block, rough or squared, plaster of paris when ground or calcined, paintings and statuary, stricken out.

The duty on licorice paste or rolls is raised from 4 (in the bill) to 5 cents per pound, and licorice juice, which is taken from the free list, is put at 3 per cent. ad valorem. China clay or kaoline, wrought, $2 per ton. The duty on green and colored glass bottles, demijohns, pickle or preserve jars and other plain, moulded or pressed green or colored bottle glass, not cut or painted, is raised from ¾ cents to 1 cent per pound. The duty on unpolished, cylinder, crown, and common window glass, larger than 16x20 inches, is increased from 1½ to 2 cents per pound. The old duty of $17 per ton is restored on slabs and billets of steel. A duty of four-tenths of a cent per pound is placed on iron or steel with longitudinal ribs, for the manufacture of fences. The old duty is restored upon wood screws. New type is reduced to 15 per cent. ad valorem. Rice flour and rice meal are reduced from 20 to 15 per cent. ad valorem. The duty on bags and bagging of cotton, flax, hemp, jute and gunny cloth is changed from 15 per cent. ad valorem (as in the bill) to ⅞ cents per pound. The duty on carpets is increased from 30 per cent. (as in the bill) to 40 per cent. ad valorem. Card clothing is increased from 15 to 20 cents per square yard.

The duty on india rubber fabrics and india rubber boots and shoes is restored to the present rate. The duty on marble of all kinds, in block, rough or squared, is placed at 40 cents per cubic foot.

PASSED BY THE SENATE.

The Bill for a Naval Station on the Pacific Coast.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senator Mitchell's joint resolution providing for the appointment by the secretary of the navy of a commission composed of three competent naval officers, to select a suitable site for a naval station, navy yard and docks on the Pacific coast, was to-day taken up in the senate, and after being defended by Mitchell, who presented a lengthy letter from the admiral of the navy in its support, was passed.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

Reservation Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senator Dawes submitted a favorable report to-day in the senate on the bill to accept and ratify an agreement submitted by the Shoshones, Comanches and Sheep Eaters, of the Fort Hall and Lemhi reservations in Idaho. Also a bill to accept and ratify an agreement made with the Shoshone and Bannock Indians for the surrender to the United States of a portion of the Fort Hall reservation to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.

Senator Mitchell introduced in the senate to-day a resolution adopted by the board of trade of the city of Pendleton, Oregon, urging the early completion of the work of allotment of lands and the sale of the remainder of the Umatilla reservation in Oregon.

The senate passed a bill to-day granting right of way to the Puyallup Railway Company through the Puyallup Indian reservation.

Increase of Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—In the house today Morrow's amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, providing for an increase of appropriation for the branch hydrographic offices from $6500 to $16,500, was again opposed by Randall, who called for a separate vote on the amendment. Morrow defended his amendment, which was adopted by a vote of 93 to 51. This amendment adds two branch offices, one at Norfolk, Va., and one at Portland, Or., and increases the appropriation at San Francisco from about $600 per year to $7500 per year, and other offices are increased in like sums except New York, which gets $5000. The hydrographic service will now be placed under the increased appropriations, on an effective basis.

Want Lands in Severalty.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has informed Representative Hermann that a large number of Indians on the Klamath reservation are willing to take their lands in severalty. As extensive surveys are necessary, the commissioner says it will depend much upon congress for a sufficient appropriation to carry on the work of allotment. Hermann has been invited to address the committee on appropriation as to the matter of surveys in Oregon. The Oregon legislature has presented a memorial for restoration of a portion of the Siletz Indian reservation, and claims that public necessity requires it.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A pension has been granted William A. Neville, Mondova, W. T.

T. Roberts has been appointed postmaster at Grand Coulee, Lincoln county, W. T., in place of Robert J. Lewis, who has resigned. The site of this office has been moved three miles west, on route 43,313.

Commissioner Stockslager, who succeeded Mr. Sparks as commissioner of the general land office, has approved and ordered patents to issue on 1634 land cases in the various states and territories during the months of April and May.

The Nomination of Fuller.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The senate committee on judiciary to-day further considered the nomination of Fuller, but did not reach a conclusion. Another meeting will be held to-day or to-morrow. There seems to be no doubt that the committee will report favorably on the nomination. The delays are due rather to a fear that the committee will be accused of haste and want of thoroughness, if it neglects to examine and weigh all that is laid before it, than to any special matters which have been charged against the nominee.

House Committee On Judiciary.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The house committee on judiciary to-day amended the senate bill relative to depositions in United States' courts so as to require the courts to conform to the state practice in taking those depositions.

A favorable report was ordered on the senate bill to make juries of United States circuit and district courts interchangeable.

Sullivan vs. Felton.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The house committee on elections to-day took up consideration of the contested election case of Sullivan vs. Felton, of the fifth California congressional district. Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, opened the argument in favor of Mr. Sullivan's right to the seat.

The Sheridan Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The house committee on military affairs has decided to report favorably the senate bill to revive the rank of general of the army, for the benefit of Gen. Sheridan.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The Dalles Mission Case Occupies Much Time To-Day.

NEW YORK, May 31.—At to-day's session of the Methodist conference not more than fifteen or twenty delegates were present, a large number of them having returned home.

A report providing for union of Methodists of all nationalities was adopted.

A minority report opposing independence of the Japanese church was presented but laid on the table.

The next report was on the Dalles Mission case. This case is one where the missionary society sold and gave possession of certain property at the Dalles, Or., to [illegible] after the society's right to the land had been certified to by the secretary of the interior. The United States supreme court, however, decided that the missionary society had no right to the land. The committee therefore recommended refunding the money to persons who had paid it, or their heirs, in four annual payments without interest. The sum is $[illegible]. The recommendation was adopted.

The committee on missions reported in favor of amending the charter of the missionary society, so its annual meetings might be held in any city of the United States. Also a resolution providing for the appointment of a commission to prepare a plan for insurance of property in America.

After the transaction of further routine business, and the passage of various complimentary resolutions, the conference was dissolved.

NO DANGER.

The Sioux Indians Are Not Meditating an Outbreak.

OMAHA, Neb., May 31.—Colonel Stevens, of the Ninth cavalry, who was out with troops to reconnoiter among the Sioux Indians, telegraphs that there is not the slightest danger of an Indian outbreak, and no need of troops, except to restore confidence among settlers.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.

Arrival at St. Louis of the Coast Delegation.

THEY ARE SOLID FOR THURMAN.

That is, for Second Place—The California Delegates Accompanied by a Great Array of Wine Cases—Political Notes.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—The California, Oregon and Nevada delegates to the national democratic convention, coming from the most distant points, are the first of the democratic hosts on the field. They arrived this morning in two through Pullman cars from San Francisco. They were assigned to the Laclede hotel, but the Californians decided to change their quarters to the Southern, where they were given a large room just north of the Broadway entrance. The delegation's banner, of beautiful silk, trimmed in rich gold cording, and bearing the arms of the state, was placed in the rotunda of the hotel. Shortly after the arrival of the delegation, a transfer team pulled up to the Fourth street entrance with a wagon load of cases labeled "California Delegation to St. Louis." An aroma with which the breezes through the grand east and west corridors were laden gave a hint of what good things the ceiling-high wall of cases contained.

The trip, although very pleasant, was entirely uneventful, and the entire delegation are in good health and joyous spirits. The party is headed by Hon. Stephen W. White, lieutenant governor of the state, and chairman of the delegation, who will be vigorously pushed for temporary chairman of the convention, and will be supported by the California, Oregon and Nevada, and most of the other Western delegations, and probably by New York.

DELEGATES INTERVIEWED.

Brief interviews with members of the different delegations disclosed the fact that the Pacific coast is first for Cleveland for president, and next for Judge Thurman of Ohio, for vice-president. The sentiments of the individual delegates may be summed up in the following from Lieut.-Gov. White:

> I am most emphatically for Thurman for second place, and you will see that our delegation has but one opinion on this subject. We have been Thurman men for eight years, and we propose to nominate him this time, if it be in the range of possibilities. Our only doubt is as to his acceptance of the office. If he shall refuse the place I cannot say how the delegation will vote; but our support will be cast for the man who makes the strongest showing. With Cleveland and Thurman on the ticket we can carry the whole Pacific slope beyond a doubt. As regards the tariff I am in perfect accord with President Cleveland's views, as outlined in his message. We on the coast are not for absolute free trade, but we do favor a large reduction of the present tariff. We shall go into the convention on the broad-gauge principle of California for the democracy, and the president's message for a platform."

OTHER DELEGATES.

Hon. M. F. Tarpey said:

"If Thurman is a candidate I shall support him. He is my choice for the vice-presidency, first, last and always. He is the man for the place, and the only man who can carry the Pacific coast. After him it is an open question whom I shall support. I have no second choice, and shall vote for whosoever makes the best showing before the convention. I strongly favor a reduction of the tariff, as suggested by the president in his message. The message is our platform, and we shall strongly urge its adoption."

Mr. Maurice Schmitt, of San Francisco, said: "I am a Thurman man always. I supported him in the Chicago convention for first place four years ago, and I am here to support him for second place now. Cleveland and Thurman is a ticket that means 10,000 additional democratic votes in California this fall."

For second choice for vice-president very little information could be obtained. The preference for Mr. Thurman is so strong that the delegates have no desire to talk about second choice, but if Thurman actually declines, or if he discloses but little strength in the convention, they incline to Assistant Postmaster-General Stevenson, of Illinois. All, however, will be guided by circumstances, and by what seems to be the best interest of the party. They are all for Cleveland in any event, and for second place will combine on the man who most fully represents the sentiment of the convention.

BLAINE'S SECOND LETTER.

The "World" Thinks it Clears the Way for Gresham.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Tribune says today:

> The keen disappointment of republicans at the declination of Blaine is natural, but it must not, will not, blind republicans to the truth of his two letters, which so strongly enforce the declaration that the republican party is greater than any man. Its cause is more potent than the personal popularity of any leader whatever. The very issue which Blaine tried to make the country realize is now forced upon the country in all its breadth, in all its sharpness, by the conduct of the democratic party when invested with power obtained by false pretenses. Any candidate whose position is such that he can draw to himself the votes of those who agree with the republican party on that broad, vital issue, will be elected by a vote so decisive that its meaning will never be questioned. There are such candidates—more than one. The nomination of either of them might be—and with reasonable management will be, equivalent to election."

The World says:

> Three things are clearly indicated by Blaine's action: First, the republican nomination will go to a second-class man; second, it will be a Western candidate; third, the indications point clearly to Gresham.

The Sun says:

> The great glory of Blaine is that he refused to be a candidate, [illegible] the American [illegible]

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., May 31.—F. P. Fleming, of Jacksonville, was nominated by the democratic state convention for governor on the fortieth ballot.

Failed to Appear.

LOUISVILLE, May 31.—C. P. Huntington failed to appear in the law and equity court here this morning to answer for contempt and a capias attachment was issued for him. At the same time D. T. Sander, counsel for local stockholders, asked that the property of the Short Route Transfer Company be taken from Huntington's hands and placed in control of a receiver.

Judge Toney at once ordered a capias attachment, returnable at 1 P. M. to-morrow. A bond of $5000 will be required when the papers are served for Vice-President Long's appearance to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in failing to appear in the name of the Short Line Transfer Company, in obedience of injunctions issued by the court. The other motions went over till to-morrow afternoon for argument.

A Stormy Debate Over the Woman Suffrage Plank Ends in Victory for the Ladies—A Number of Exciting Scenes.

INDIANAPOLIS May 31—The galleries were crowded when Chairman St John rapped the prohibition convention to order

The first business of the morning was the report of the committee on rules which recommended that sessions of the convention be from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 6 o'clock that debate be confined to 5 minutes to each delegate no delegate to speak more than once on each question that votes be taken by call of states that absent delegates be voted in proportion to those present and that nominating speeches be confined to one for each state for each office The remaining recommendations were unimportant

The convention immediately proceeded to get into a tangle on the rule limiting the debate on the suffrage question those most interested in this probable plank in the platform objecting seriously to so circumscribing debate The rules were finally adopted as reported

A special motion by a New York delegate to limit the debate on the suffrage plank to three hours, and to speeches of ten minutes each was defeated and the report of the committee on finance was presented It recommends the adoption of the national committee's plank already formulated for an assessment by states with the additional provision that voluntary contributions be taken in the convention The report was adopted

The convention next proceeded to the collection of voluntary contributions and there was seen one of those enthusiastic occurrences peculiar to prohibition conventions Many contributions were received in amounts ranging from $2000 down, and aggregated $20 000 One thousand dollars was contributed by R H McDonald of California, who was before the convention of '84 for the head of the ticket The delegate from Portland, Oregon pledged $1000 from his state Californians aggregated $2000

After a song by the colored quartette it was announced that the convention was invited to adjourn to Music Hall at Cincinnati Friday evening to attend a ratification meeting at which Gov St John and other prohibition leaders expected to speak

The convention adjourned until 2 o'clock

At the afternoon session the delegates were equally as slow in getting into place as at the morning session The assemblage is proving to be most unwieldy because of the large number of delegates and alternates nearly all of whom seem to have come "loaded" with a speech

THE PLATFORM

The time was devoted to singing and other exercises for the entertainment of the convention, until nearly 3 o'clock when the committee on resolutions was ready to report, and secretary Samuel Small proceeded to read the majority report of the committee, as follows

The prohibition party, in national convention assembled acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all power in government, do hereby declare

First—That the manufacture importation, exportation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages shall be made public crimes, and punished as such

Second—That such prohibition must be secured through amendments of our national and state constitutions enforced by adequate laws adequately supported by administrative authority and to this end organization for a prohibition party is imperatively demanded in the state and nation

Third—That any form of license taxation or regulation of the liquor traffic is contrary to good government that any party which supports regulation license or tax enters into alliance with such traffic and becomes the actual foe of the state's welfare and that we arraign the republican and democratic parties for their persistent attitude in favor of licensed iniquity whereby they oppose the demands of the people for prohibition, and through open complicity with the liquor traffic defeat its enforcement.

Fourth—That we favor immediate abolition of the internal revenue system whereby our national government is deriving support from our greatest national vice

Fifth—That an adequate public revenue being necessary, it may properly be raised by import duty and by equitable assessment upon the property and legitimate business of the country but import duties should be reduced, so that no surplus shall be accumulated in the treasury, and that the burdens of taxation shall be removed from food, clothing and other comforts and necessaries of life.

Sixth—That civil service appointments for all civil offices chiefly clerical in their duties, should be based upon moral, intellectual and physical qualifications, and not upon party service or party necessity

Seventh—That the right of suffrage rests on no mere circumstance of race color, sex or nationality, and that where, from any cause, it has been held from citizens who are of suitable age and mentally and morally qualified for the exercise of an intelligent ballot, it should be restored by the people, through the legislatures of the several states, on such educational basis as they may deem wise.

Eighth—For the abolition of polygamy and the establishment of uniform laws governing marriage and divorce.

Ninth—For prohibiting all combinations of capital to control and to increase the cost of products of popular consumption

Tenth—For the preservation and defense of the Sabbath as a civil institution, without oppressing any who religiously observe the same on any other day than the first day of the week.

That arbitration is a Christian wise and economic method of settling national differences and the same method should, by judicious legislation, be applied to settlement of disputes between large bodies of employes and employers

That abolition of the saloon would relieve the burdens, moral, physical, pecuniary and socially which now oppress labor and rob it of its earnings, and would prove to be a wise and successful way of promoting labor reform, and we invite labor and capital to unite with us for the accomplishment thereof

That monopoly in land is a wrong to the people and public land should be reserved to actual settlers and that men and women should receive equal wages for equal work

Eleventh—That our immigration laws should be enforced so as to prevent the introduction into our country of all convicts, inmates of dependent institutions, and others physically incapacitated for self support and that no person should have liberty in the state who is not a citizen of the United States.

Recognizing and declaring that prohibition of the liquor traffic has become the dominant issue in national politics we invite to full party fellowship all those who, on this one dominant issue are with us agreed, in the belief that this party can and will remove sectional differences promote national unity and preserve the best welfare of our native land

The reading of the document was greeted with applause and as each plank was completed the paragraph was marked with loud cheers and cries of "that's all right"

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Prof John Olin stepped forward and announcing that there was a minority report proceeded to state his views on the platform He declared it to be unwise to place in the platform an endorsement of woman suffrage On that point alone he differed from the majority There should be nothing in the platform whose tendency would be to split the prohibition party and thereby weaken it. Woman suffrage he said was strongly opposed in a very large section of the South where prohibition had made the most rapid advance Suffrage was a dividing issue and it would be impossible to gain the success of two issues He declared for prohibition first and woman suffrage afterward Indeed he apprehended ignominious defeat if the prohibitionists did not confine themselves to one issue Prudence and sound policy demanded that the platform be free from any expression favoring woman suffrage

The question then recurred on the reception of the majority report, and Boone of New York and Manning of Michigan both moved that the report of the majority be received

W T Mills of Ohio added a motion that the minority report be received

A scene followed which defies description A dozen of the delegates jumped to their feet, seeking recognition from the chairman making motions and countless points of order

After the confusion had somewhat subsided the motion to receive the minority report was defeated, on a point of order that no minority platform had been presented

Olin was then permitted, by courtesy to add to his report a resolution on the woman suffrage question which he had presented in committee, and which had been defeated there It declared in favor of referring the entire suffrage matter to the states promising that the prohibition party, as a national party, as fast as it came into power would submit the question to the people, to be by them settled, as they see fit by the ballot box.

ANOTHER SCENE OF DISORDER.

The report of the minority was then received, and another scene of great disorder and tumult followed Among the confusion could be heard the gavel of Chairman St John, rapidly splintering the table in a vain effort to quiet the delegates, who were all on their feet, and all, as a matter of fact, had the floor

It was finally settled that the majority report should be considered section by section under the five-minute rule governing debate The preamble and first four planks were adopted without debate one or two attempts to amend the verbiage signally failing

On the tariff plank a warm discussion occurred, on a proposition to strike out the clause referring to taxation other than import duties The plank was, however finally adopted as it stood

The sixth plank on woman suffrage was then read and the battle of the session begun

A delegate from Wisconsin moved to amend by substituting the Olin resolution

Numerous dilatory motions were then made in a vain effort to choke off discussion but all failed and the debate began

The first prominent speaker was T C Richmond of Wisconsin who favored the substitute and appealed to the convention not to divide the party for it would cost prohibition thousands of votes in the South if woman suffrage was endorsed as contemplated by the majority resolutions and thus prohibition itself would be imperilled

A PEACEMAKER SNUBBED

At this juncture Mr Dickie of Michigan tried to compromise matters by moving that the debate be confined to two hours, four leading men on each side to speak The convention would not hear of it, and the wrangle proceeded

Mrs Merryweather, of Missouri denied that woman suffrage was opposed in the South Those who said so knew not whereof they spoke

Mrs Perkins of Ohio, followed in an earnest plea for the ballot for women, without which the temperance movement was sadly hampered

Prof Olin repeated his argument substantially as contained in his report, and Sam Small, who had originally opposed the majority report said it was in a spirit of compromise that they had signed the majority side He urged the convention to do likewise

Other speakers were Messrs Tate of Tennessee, Bain of Kentucky, and Cranfell of Texas the first of whom opposed the majority report the other two urging the convention to drop sentiment and policy, and stick to principle no matter what the cost.

Neal Dow of Maine favored the minority report as did also several others and speakers in favor of the majority were numberless, so the debate went on for nearly three hours

Toward the close Mother Stewart of Ohio an old time leader of the cause of prohibition spoke strongly in defense of the majority report

Mills of Ohio one of the leaders of the opposition to woman suffrage, declared that it would require twenty five years to educate the people on suffrage to the same point to which they were educated on prohibition, and to adopt the majority report would set the party back twenty five years He pleaded with the convention not to do such a disparaging act

Rev J Gans argued that a question of honor was involved The prohibition party had secured the accession of the home protection party in 1884 by promising to support woman suffrage and to go back on it would be treason

John Russell of Michigan and Bennett of Kansas also strongly supported the majority report

WOMAN SUFFRAGE PREVAILS

Miss Frances E Willard rose as it proved, to close the debate She spoke favoring a compromise of the contending influences and appealed to the delegates to vote in favor of the original woman suffrage plank As she closed, amid tremendous confusion a dozen voices were heard shouting for the previous question and on being put it was carried by an overwhelming vote

The amendment was then rejected and the majority report adopted

Other planks were taken up and put through with a rush At the close of this work a resolution was added to the platform on motion of Sam Small condemning the democratic and republican parties for denying self government to 60 000 people of Dakota

A colored delegate of North Carolina then offered the following which was seconded by Sam Small and immediately adopted

Resolved That we hold that all men are born free and equal, and should be secured in their rights.

The convention then adjourned until 8 P M

EVENING SESSION

Promptly at 8 o'clock Chairman St. John rapped the convention to order and proceeded with the business of the evening session The first thing done after the convention quieted was the presentation of a motion by Delegate Stevens, of Pennsylvania, for the following addition to the tariff plank in the platform "and imposed upon such articles of importation as will give protection both to the manufacturing employer and producing labor against the competition of the world"

This addition to the tariff plank was adopted, and an attempt to reconsider failed

On motion of a delegate from Ohio a resolution was placed before the house favoring the payment of pensions to ex soldiers and sailors but in the confusion the vote was uncertain, though Chairman St. John declared later that it was carried

The presentation of minor resolutions of thanks for various courtesies followed all being adopted

FOR PRESIDENT, CLINTON B FISKE

The order of business was called for On the calling of the roll of states for nominations for the presidency, silence prevailed until the name of the state of New Jersey was called Then there arose such cheering as had not before been witnessed in the convention

Judge Morrow took the rostrum and in an eloquent speech proceeded to place the name of Clinton B Fiske before the convention His address was short yet one of the most polished delivered before the convention He paid tribute to Gen Fiske as a man of earnestness, as a soldier, statesman and Christian

As he closed the convention rose, and as one man, with one impulse saluted the mention of his name Cheer followed cheer in such rapid succession that it was impossible to distinguish them

As soon as the convention had quieted down a dozen voices were heard moving that Clinton B Fiske be nominated by acclamation Amid applause the question was put and carried without a dissenting voice The nomination was then confirmed by a rising vote and as the unanimity became evident a cloth which had concealed a beautiful floral emblem was pulled aside revealing the words "Hail to the Chief Fiske" An American flag, bearing a picture of Gen Fiske with his name attached was the same moment swung into view Swinging of hats cheers and clapping of hands followed until the delegates were tired and hoarse

BROOKS FOR VICE PRESIDENT

The demonstration was kept up for ten minutes or more and for a time it seemed as though it would never cease At length quiet was restored and after the formal announcement by the chairman of the result the call of the states was begun for the nomination of candidates for vice president

Alabama through J F Colson placed in nomination John Tanner whose name was received with almost equal applause to that which the name of Fiske received

When Georgia was reached Sam Small took the floor and in one of his flowery nominating speeches paid tribute to the worth earnestness and zeal of one of the noblest of them all George W Baine of Lexington Kentucky Baine, immediately after the enthusiasm caused by the mention of his name had died pleaded with the convention not to consider his name Cries of dissent were heard, but he insisted on the plea that he was unable to stand the fatigue of the campaign and that he would be more valuable on the stump as an agitator

The next nomination was that of John A Brooks of Kansas City by G C Christian of Chicago The applause with which his name was greeted was hearty and general, indeed, equal to that accorded Baine

Bennett of Kansas followed and nominated Sam Small of Georgia, who immediately declined to run

The remaining speeches were devoted to seconding previous nominations until Texas was reached Delegates Dickey of Michigan Mrs Hoffman of Missouri Crew of New York Miller of Oregon and Stevens of Pennsylvania consented to the nomination of Brooks A number of seconds were made for Small Texas through J B Cranfell, nominated E L Doheming

At the close of the roll call John T Tanner of Alabama rose and withdrew in favor of Brooks Cranfell withdrew Doheming, and then on motion of Christian, of Illinois the nomination of John A Brooks was made by acclamation with a rush. A scene like that which succeeded Fiske's nomination followed

Brooks responded with thanks for the honor conferred and proposed to stand by the principles of the party with his life He urged abandonment of sectionalism and declared that he although once a Confederate was now a Union man loyal in all things and would yield to no man in devotion to his country or the party which so completely exemplified the error of sectionalism

As he closed cheers again broke forth and a short time having been spent in making announcements the convention after singing and a benediction at 12 30 adjourned sine die

FIGHTS WITH THIEVING INDIANS

Hurn and Mrs Pyle Sentenced to be Hanged at Walla Walla—Shot by a Woman—An Atrocious Murder

SEATTLE May 31—The Post Intelligencer will make the following announcement to-morrow morning

Peter Kirk of the Moss Bay Iron and Steel Company, of Cumberland England has selected a site on Lake Washington near this city for the location of extensive iron and steel works This announcement is made by authority of Mr Kirk himself The spot selected is on the east side of the lake directly opposite the termination of Madison street, and about midway between the lake ports of Houghton and Juanita It lies north from and immediately adjacent to Moss bay (heretofore called Nelson's bay) and takes in over 2000 acres which have been acquired by purchase within the past two weeks Moss bay is distant from the business center of Seattle by practicable means about thirty minutes in point of time, and while little removed from the corporate limits, is within the metropolitan district of Seattle The site was selected for its perfect natural adaptation to the purposes in view It answers fully every requirement for such an establishment as Mr Kirk has in prospect It is the nearest practicable point on navigable water from the Snoqualmie ore beds It is adjacent to Lake Washington on one hand and to the line of the Seattle Lake Shore & Eastern railroad on the other It is sufficiently spacious not only for the works but for the city which must connect itself with them as a necessary attachment For this latter purpose the situation is all that the most exacting taste could wish Timber, water—in short all the conditions necessary, or even desirable are complete and perfect

Mr Kirk talked with perfect frankness to a Post Intelligencer reporter yesterday concerning his general purposes "I have been in the country nearly two years, he said "I did not you may be sure determine upon the location at Lake Washington without full and careful examination of all the facts and considerations involved In this work I have occupied myself personally and have had the assistance of the secretary of my company, Mr W W Williams We have been over the ground thoroughly and have chosen the location near Seattle because in our judgment it affords more advantages than any other situation I may add that the advantages of this situation have been industriously kept before me by one of your citizens during the past six months I do not care to speak of details as yet but will say this much that the works which we propose will be complete and extensive Of course we are doing this thing purely as a matter of business and solely for business reasons, but it must, in the nature of things, be a very important enterprise for Seattle

Continuing, Mr Kirk said "We shall lose no time in beginning operations, for I can assure you we are anxious to be at work I shall go with Mr Williams immediately to the site selected and we shall begin work without delay Of course the work of getting ready will be very great, for the industry is new in the country and everything will have to be made from the beginning"

Peter Kirk is the managing director of the Moss Bay Iron and Steel Works Cumberland England He is an iron man of great experience and reputation He is preparing to duplicate the Moss Bay Works, at a cost of $2,000 000 The works will make a town of 10,000 people at Seattle's back door The city is jubilant to night The location of the works here is considered a notable triumph over the Northern Pacific who have been trying to induce Kirk to locate at Tacoma.

INDIAN HORSE THIEVES

A Number of Skirmishes With Stockmen, in Which One Redskin is Killed

HELENA, Mont. May 31—Indian horse thieves have been causing a good deal of trouble in Northern Montana lately and several encounters between them and the stockmen have occurred with fatal results in one instance at least The Indians are cunning and defiant and summary measures will have to be adopted to suppress them

Hon John Harris of Fort Benton had an exciting experience with a band of them a few days ago while on a visit to the Benton & St Louis ranch upon the Marias river He saddled up one morning and rode out upon the range in search of a suitable location for a corral Upon arriving at what is known as the Black coulee he discovered an object which he took for a coyote and made for the spot with the intention of shooting it but upon nearing the object he found it to be three buck Indians with their guns in position, and the third holding two horses each being armed with a rifle As Mr Harris had only a six shooter he wheeled and started to the ranch for assistance, and in taking a short cut down the creek his horse became mired down Being unable to get him out he took the saddle and bridle off secreted them and reached the ranch afoot Afterward he returned to the scene with reinforcements but the Indians were gone The horse ridden by Mr Harris that got in the mire got out again swam the river and went to camp

FIRED UPON

On Monday as Mike Wearly was endeavoring to trail the Indians who stole three horses, he came upon three horses tied together grazing upon the prairie, and was satisfied they were the animals that had been stolen by the Indians and tethered together in that manner He looked around for signs of Indians but could find none He then concluded to drive the horses in and find out who they belonged to When he started to do this he was fired upon by the thieves, who had been concealed in the bushes He returned the fire but being badly outnumbered had to do some scientific running

He carried the news with him to the ranch Here the loose stock was corraled and that night a guard was kept it being apprehended that the Indians would endeavor to get more horses The guards occupied a stable commanding a view of the corral The bold red rascals late at night after skirmishing around the place for a long time sent one of their number in the enclosure to drive the animals out He was fired upon and his lifeless carcass rolled over in the dust. A steady fusilade was kept up on the others but they escaped The party were Blood Indians from across the line

OTHER LOSSES

John O Hern who resides at the old agency crossing of the Teton lost nine head of horses on the night of the 21st inst. He is satisfied they were stolen by Indians He came to Benton for the purpose of preparing for a trip to Fort MacLeod in pursuit of the thieves He started Monday and will endeavor to trail the thieves to their camp wherever it may be and recover his property

The police force of the Northwest territory are very vigilant and on all occasions render our people every assistance in recovering stolen animals and Mr O Hern is satisfied he will not only recover his horses but that he can have the Indians punished

Last Saturday Lum Reed of Lower Warm Spring creek came into Lewiston and notified Sheriff Beck of the fact that a number of Indians were in the South Moccasin mountains with a band of horses The sheriff and two others secured mounts and upon arriving were greeted by a volley from the Indians Beck got a shot at one about 100 yards distant but failed to bring him down D W Eaton, with ten of his men bore down on the Indians in their rear and if they had not disappeared in the thick brush would have made short work of them

Five horses belonging to Jacob Nave one the property of Lum Reed and seven Indian ponies were captured There were three Indians in the party who by the loss of their ponies were undoubtedly set afoot

THE DEATH SENTENCE

A Sorrowful Scene in the Court-Room at Walla Walla

WALLA WALLA W T, May 31—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Judge Langford pronounced sentence of death upon Mrs Pyle and John Hurn While being taken up stairs Mrs Pyle made tremendous efforts to restrain herself, which she did until just before reaching the court-room door The terrible effort to keep the tears back caused the blood to rush to her head and just before passing into the court room she burst into tears and blood gushed from her nostrils almost in a stream and coursed down over her mouth and chin saturating her clothing John Hurn supported her and she was half carried to a chair Hurn was as pale as death, but by desperate effort managed to control his feelings

When Mrs Pyle was told to stand up for sentence she made no effort to move and seemed speechless J L Sharpstein her attorney, with one hand resting upon the doomed woman spoke for her When asked if she had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon her, Mr Sharpstein answered in the negative

In answer to a request to stand up Hurn arose and in answer to an inquiry if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced upon him answered in a low voice "I have nothing to say your honor"

In a low tone trembling with emotion, and audible at a distance of only a few feet Judge Langford pronounced sentence of death upon each of the prisoners He announced that the date of execution would be hereafter designated in the warrant

During the proceedings John Hurn's sole thought seemed to be his mother, whom he supported and endeavored to comfort with all the devotion of a loving dutiful son paying little attention to what the judge was saying

The condemned pair were then returned to jail When Mrs Pyle reached her cell she exclaimed "Oh my poor heart is bleeding" and again sobbed hysterically The only hope remaining is through executive clemency No effort will be made to secure a stay of proceedings

The attorneys of W S Clark the other arsonist moved for a new trial this morning, and Judge Langford denied the motion

THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT

A Statement by the Secretary of the Association

ASTORIA Or May 31—Regarding the remarks concerning the firemen's tournament in to day's OREGONIAN your correspondent this afternoon interviewed Frank L Parker secretary of the association who made the following statement

"When the board of directors met in Portland last September statements were made by members of the Volunteer Firemen's Association that Portland would raise for tournament purposes $3000 On these grounds Portland was offered the tournament, and the time was set for September, 1888 Later the volunteer association were placed in charge of the affair and they wanted to change to June as they could then raise more money than at any other time They wanted June and I, as secretary addressed each of the board of directors, and got a change of date as desired This necessitated the meeting to set prizes in May which was done The fund raised at that time amounted to $168 50 and two trumpets but the committee on finance offered, or guaranteed that within ten days they would raise the purse to $1000 This extension of time was granted, but the board in a subsequent session instructed me, as secretary, that in case the $1000 was not raised in the ten days to correspond with Seattle and see what she would do towards having the tournament there and if she would put up $2000 to change as on anything less than $1000 we could not get any competing teams as they cannot go unless there is a show for them to make at least traveling expenses When the ten days were up the finance committee were communicated with as to funds raised. They replied $420 In compliance with the instructions of the board I wired to Seattle asking what she would do The answer came that in ten minutes $2000 was raised hence the change The change was not made to throw slurs at the Portland volunteer association.

BEATEN AND KICKED TO DEATH

The Fate of a Drunken Man Who Insulted a Woman.

SACRAMENTO May 31—Nelson Silsby a railroad engineer living at Racklin went into a saloon at that place yesterday afternoon where he found John Daley drunk and asleep Silsby at once attacked Daley and beat and kicked him unmercifully until the man presented a horrible appearance When Silsby desisted Daley was found to be dead Mrs Silsby is Daley's divorced wife and she told her husband that Daley had visited her in his absence and it is understood made an offensive remark to her She accompanied Silsby to the saloon and watched him beat Daley Silsby was arrested and his examination will be held to-day

Silsby and wife both deny the report that she is Daley's divorced wife and she says she never saw him till a few weeks ago She states that he tried to break into her house recently and insulted her once on the street Silsby says he did not intend to do more than thrash the man

The autopsy shows that death resulted from paralysis of the heart caused by the shock of the blows The use of liquor had increased the weight of the heart to twice the normal condition According to the doctors' evidence the coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from paralysis of the heart superinduced by blows inflicted by Nelson Silsby but do not accuse Silsby of murder

The Lusk Canning Co

SAN FRANCISCO May 31—As regards the sale of the buildings and extensive business of the J Lusk Canning Company to a syndicate there has been much comment as to why $100 000 worth of property should be sold for the sum of $48 000 with the fruit season on hand and the factories in good working order located at Temescal, in which between 700 and 800 persons have been employed Investigation seems to show that the new syndicate knew full well when purchasing the Temescal property for $48 000, that they were running no risks and that it was not their intention to run that factory this season because there is no necessity for it in the present condition of the fruit market The most important object to be accomplished has been successful and that is that the Lusk Canning Company has been relieved of some very unprofitable contracts which it had made and which would had they been carried out resulted in great loss to the house It is well known among fruit men that the Lusk Canning Company has been a very heavy purchaser of green fruit in the orchards of the state at hand some prices As a sample of this speculation it may be stated that the company purchased almost the entire apricot yield in Vacaville at two cents a pound which is considered a fancy price at the present market rates The contracts entered into by the Lusk Company were too much for the firm to carry and bear the loss Consequently the only safe way out was to make an assignment

Nothing Much Short of a Miracle Can Save Gen. Sheridan.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Gen. Sheridan's condition has been growing worse and worse, and to-night all hope that he would be able to rally has well nigh been abandoned. Dr Lincoln who was called for consultation said this evening

"The treatment has been a very successful, and I think the physicians have managed the case admirably But for the promptness of action I think those who have attended him would have lost him at various times during his illness. UNSUCCESSFUL BURGLARY

About 1 30 o'clock this morning Special Policeman Nash coming down Washington street to Front noticed a light in the office of Hexter & May's store and saw some one hoisting a curtain which rolls up from the bottom of the window It is not usual for a light to be kept burning in this office but Mr Nash supposed that this being the 1st of the month some one might be working on the books He walked across to the store and as his star shone in the light of the gas burning in the office a man rushed out and started down the passage between the piles of stoves toward the back door Nash tried the front door found it open rushed in and pulling his pistol told the fugitive to stop or he would shoot The fellow kept on running and Nash fired The man shot at gave a sort of grunt but kept on and escaped by the back door which was open probably for that purpose Nash in running through the store stumbled in the darkness over a truck and when he got on the wharf the burglar was not to be seen Nothing appeared to be missing or disturbed and it is probable that the fellow had not had time to carry out his plans whatever they were before he was discovered

HOW TO DESTROY THE NEW BEETLES

PORTLAND May 31

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The insect that you term rose destroying beetle in this morning's issue of your paper is I think the curculio a most destructive little insect that injures much fruit (particularly plums and prunes) in the East It arrived too late to do any damage this year but next year it will begin operations as soon as the fruit is set They are easily destroyed by laying a large cloth at dusk on the ground under the bushes infested by them then a few quick shakes or sharp raps with a stick on the bushes, will make them drop off on to the cloth Gather them up immediately and burn as they can fly If everybody would join in this war the results would be very satisfactory but if they are allowed to go their way in peace next year Oregon will be infested with millions of the pests

BAKER AND MALHEUR.

Two of the Finest Counties to be Found in Eastern Oregon.

Open Fields for Profitable Investment of Capital in Mining, Ranching, Lumbering, Farming and Other Pursuits

An interesting pamphlet just issued by the Oregon Blade Publishing Company, at Baker City, is devoted to a description of the southeastern corner of the state, comprising Baker and Malheur counties, setting forth the rapid growth of the towns within their limits the industries which already offer useful and profitable occupation to all comers and the great opportunities for a quick return to capital if invested in any of the various pursuits offered in this vast domain Some extracts from the pages of this pamphlet will prove of much interest to the general reader

Baker County

Baker county occupies the extreme eastern portion of the state lying between Union and Malheur counties and contains 2000 square miles Powder river separates it from Union county on the north Snake river flows between it and Idaho territory on the east the Burnt river mountains divide it from Malheur county on the south and the snow-capped Blue mountains, made famous by Capt Bonneville in 1833 lie between it and Grant county on the west There are about 1 300,000 acres in the county of which fully 300 000 are covered with a dense growth of pine, tamarack and fir timber In the numerous valleys rich bottom lands requiring no irrigation are found while the hills furnish bunch grass pasturage for some 12 000 head of stock

THE CLIMATE

The climate of the county varies according to locality In the eastern portions in the valleys where they open out to Snake river with an altitude of 2000 to 2500 feet above the sea the summers are warm and the winters very mild while the atmosphere at all seasons of the year is dry with cool nights in summer and sunny winter days Here the most luscious peaches and kindred fruits grow to perfection and the finest sweet potatoes tomatoes and melons are raised furnishing positive evidence, not only of the character of the soil but of the mildness of the climate The whole country rises rapidly from Snake river to the west and not only the increasing altitude but the approach to the Blue mountains whose high peaks carry perpetual snow cause a marked fall in temperature within a comparatively short distance so that when the east base of the Blue mountains is reached it is only in favored spots that peaches can be successfully raised Hot summer nights are unknown but the days are warm enough to mature good corn crops, the temperature rising as high as 90 degrees

In the absence of any official or scientific observations, it is impossible to give accurate information as to the rainfall and temperature except such as the field and orchard furnish The rainfall is, however, light there being little or none between June and October the spring rains being only sufficient to insure crops about four years in five without irrigation The winter snows are usually light, except in the high mountain ranges and commence falling about Christmas The holidays are as a rule ushered in with a snowstorm, to be followed by ten days or two weeks of cold weather during which the thermometer has been known to drop as low as 30 degrees below zero for a few nights when the welcome 'chinook' wind sweeps in from the Pacific and breaks up the winter the ground is freed from frost, sleighs if they have been taken out are put up the days get warm and pleasant until about the last of February when the spring storms set in and continue with intervals of pleasant weather up to the first of June Cyclones and blizzards are unknown the atmosphere is dry and invigorating the winters mild with so little snow that sleighing is rare the summers perfect the waters pure and free from excessive lime so destructive to health in many other regions That it is healthful is attested by the remarkable mortuary report of Baker City a town of 3500 people where there were but seven deaths during the year 1887

AGRICULTURAL LAND

The agricultural lands of Baker county are about 320 000 acres Of this amount one half are patented and the title to the remainder is still in the general and state governments subject to private entry Of the 160 000 acres of patented lands not more than 50 000 acres are under cultivation Much of the uncultivated land is held in blocks by individuals and corporations The Oregon Railway & Navigation Company own in one body in the Powder river valley 17 000 acres while private individuals hold in the same region blocks of from 1000 to 5000 acres each These lands are uncultivated having been secured for speculation, and are therefore now held for sale at prices a little in advance of the original cost They are for the most part sage brush lands requiring irrigation to render them productive but for strength of soil far superior to the damp bottom lands

Their superiority consists not only in their strength but in their warmth and freedom from frost in which respects the bottom lands are lacking They are held at prices ranging from $6 to $12 per acre and can be bought generally on favorable terms as to payments The lands under cultivation both bottom and sagebrush are highly productive of hay and grain and can in small tracts, be bought at from $10 to $25 per acre according to the location and improvements The unsold government and state lands of an agricultural character are those remotest from the water courses and are held at the regular price of $1 25 per acre All of these unimproved tracts of agricultural lands are susceptible of a high state of cultivation requiring only irrigating water of which there is an abundance to be had at comparatively small cost

TIMBER LANDS

Baker county's future great source of wealth remains yet untouched in her forests of pine Until quite recently they have attracted little or no attention and but for a combination of causes must have remained an indefinite time of indifferent commercial value No mere local demand for lumber ever could have rendered these timber lands as such of any importance as a source of wealth But the ever increasing demand in California Nevada Utah and points farther east for Truckee lumber, and the ever diminishing supply of that region coupled with the construction of the Oregon Short Line and Oregon Railway & Navigation Company's through line of road have done much for Oregon's timber interests Combined these causes have released the lumbermen of Western Oregon from the grasp of the San Francisco lumber syndicate, and have opened up a new and constantly growing market for lumber in Utah Wyoming Colorado Nebraska Kansas and even Iowa and Missouri

This trade has grown from nothing in August 1885 to 4 000 000 feet a month in January 1888 with reasonable expectations of a steady increase for the future The great bulk of this export goes from near Portland 350 miles farther from the market than the forests of Baker and Grant counties The O R & N Company's road passes at Baker City within six miles of Eastern Oregon's great timber belt which is nearer to the market than any other in the Northwest and for extent and quality is equal to any of them

The belt covers the western portion of Baker and the northern part of Grant counties and is variously estimated to embrace an area of from one to one and a half millions of acres It follows both slopes of the Blue mountains in their southern and western course and disappears only when the mountains are finally lost in the great plateau of Central Oregon The timber is largely pine of magnificent and generally uniform growth, clear, and adapted to finishing as well as other purposes Next in quantity is the stately tamarack, superior for railroad ties fence posts, and framing purposes in building while the fir less abundant makes a fine quality of flooring. These forests are all unsold government and state school lands held at $2 50 an acre

MINES AND MINING

Gold placer mines were discovered early in the sixties at Auburn, eleven miles from Baker City, and subsequently at many points in Baker and adjoining counties. The yield of gold from these mines from the date of discovery to the present is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $20,000 000 The richest of the surface diggings were worked out during the first ten years, since which time the industry has languished for the lack of sufficient means in the hands of owners to procure ample water supplies for hydraulicking on a large scale and hence the poorer ground, with limited water supply, has been leased to Chinamen from year to year, who, however find the diggings profitable enough to give employment to a large number of their countrymen Several deep gravel hydraulic propositions on the "old channel," which passes through the western portion of Baker county are held with a firm grip by the owners in the hope of some day getting outside aid sufficient to work them by hydraulics

THE NELSON MINE

situated at Pocahontas seven miles west of Baker City is one of the deep gravel properties that has been in successful operation for years producing with two 'little giants' and six or eight men about $40 000 per season It consists of seventy acres patented land with a deposit of gravel 117 feet deep and lies high enough above the valley to afford plenty of fall and dump room During the summer of 1887 the property was sold for $300 000 to a California company who proceeded at once to put it in shape for operation on an extensive scale The new company with Col Brundel as superintendent proceeded to increase the water supply by constructing an immense reservoir putting in electric lights which were turned on March 28 cutting out a tail race large enough to carry all the waste water from the mine into Salmon creek by a direct course and putting the property in shape generally to insure continuous night and day runs through the whole season all at a cost over and above the purchase price of the mine of about $60,000 There is no question as to what the result will be that it will attract the attention of capitalists to the numerous other rich hydraulic properties of Eastern Oregon and that it will mark the beginning of a new era in Oregon placer mining

OTHER CLAIMS

Equally as good ground but of less area are found in the same locality and yield from $2000 to $10 000 a season according to the vigor with which they are worked The leading ones are the Carpenter & Jones Daily & Gray

Work is still going on at the old camp of Auburn at Deer creek and at Sumpter southwest of Baker City The Carnes & Hindman at Deer creek is a deep gravel mine, as is also the Joe Young property at Sumpter both of which have plenty of water but are confronted with the debris difficulty requiring the aid of capital to meet and overcome it

Passing westward into Grant county along the course of the 'old channel' the Olive Lake property consisting of several hundred acres, is another one of the deep gravel propositions requiring capital for its development There is no water supply within the reach of a poor man At points on this ground, however where snow water could be reservoired, some exceedingly rich diggings have been worked yielding in one case a single nugget worth $3200 and many smaller ones worth from $50 to $500 each At one time a project was on foot to take the water out of Olive lake by a canal thirty five miles long and conduct it upon this bonanza at a cost of $80 000 but the owners were not strong enough to carry the project through Still westward the placers at Prairie and Canyon Cities, Susanville, Robinsonville Granite Olive and Bull Run creeks are yielding well, while those of Granite and Trail creeks on the headwaters of the north fork of John Day river are profitably worked from year to year, with much virgin soil yet to be explored

QUARTZ MINES

There are no free gold quartz mines in Eastern Oregon The numerous little five ten and even twenty stamp mills scattered from Snake river to Canyon City idle and falling into decay are significant of the truth Until recently the base low grade sulphuret ores have been passed by as of no value in the persistent search for something that would pan

Low grade base ore veins of great length and strength are numerous and found at points along the entire length of the Blue mountain range As in all other mining countries the veins vary in size from a few inches to twenty or thirty feet wide and from a few feet in length to as many miles The sulphurets that are carried in the quartz gangue are generally rich and when concentrated are worth from a few cents to four dollars a pound The per cent of sulphurets in the ore varies from one to twenty but the percentage is no criterion of value Successful quartz mining in Eastern Oregon therefore resolves itself into the simple proposition of quantity of ore the per cent and grade of the sulphurets it contains method of concentration and the treatment of the sulphurets at the mine when the sulphurets are of too low a grade to ship The majority of the sulphurets however are high enough in grade to ship and return a handsome profit Several owners of meritorious properties have caught the idea and are making preparations to intelligently follow the experience of the successful operators in sulphurets of North Carolina Colorado California and Montana

BAKER CITY

Near the center of the county at the south end of a beautiful valley and 3300 feet above the level of the sea is situated Baker City It is the county seat and has a population of 3500 In 1863 it was simply a stage station while the mining town of Auburn eleven miles distant was booming with a population of 10 000 As the diggings played out many of the miners turned ranchers and settled the Powder river valley than which there is no finer in the whole West and finally founded the little village of Baker naming it in honor of Senator L D Baker then senator from Oregon

In 1884 the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company constructed its line through the town eastward to meet the Oregon Short Line at Huntington on Snake river On the day when the roads made their junction Baker City and the whole of Eastern Oregon were born to new life though the people were some time in fully realizing it

During the summer of 1887 several important enterprises were projected among them the Baker City & Granite railroad to open the timber fields many handsome residences were erected a fine hall was built by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows leading business men put in several brick business blocks new roller flour and planing mills were put in and numerous cottages sprang up as by the hand of magic It was the liveliest building boom the city ever had the money expended aggregating about $200 000 The people became clamorous for water works and measures are now on foot to put them in, the erection of a new $30 000 school house was demanded authorized and is now under way new hotels are projected many additional business blocks are contracted electric lights are to be turned on a street railway company is seeking a franchise from the city a new town hall is needed and promised the streets are to be graded while the number of residences to be built far exceeds that of the previous year and will make a splendid record for 1888 The people recognize the fact that their beautiful city is the key to the situation that it is the distributing point to a vast country backed by unlimited natural wealth that the timber resource must double the city's population and volume of business within twelve months after the first stroke of work is done on the Baker City & Granite Creek railroad as access to the forests can be had only from Baker City that it lies in the very midst of a great mining region which must pay tribute to the city as Colorado does to Denver and finally that the agricultural interests of the north, the fruit and stock interests of the east and south must centralize there

WHAT THE CITY HAS

Baker City has five churches each with a large congregation a Sisters' (Catholic) school for young ladies public schools with a school population of 630, three newspaper establishments, the Oregon Blade the daily and weekly Democrat and the daily and weekly Reveille, wholesale and retail business houses representing many lines of trade flouring mills, planing mills, brick yards warm mineral springs and cheap business and residence property that pays 1½ to 5 per per cent on investments, one national bank fire department pump manufactory, assay offices, the best hotels in Eastern Oregon, livery stables, a first-class bus and dray service and a building loan association. The professions are represented by an able and quite numerous bar, nine regular physicians and several engineers. Two lines of daily stage coaches run out of Baker City to the mines

Paying investments for capital would be in a big hotel a large dry goods house a wholesale grocery store a tannery woolen mills, a steam laundry ore concentrating works, street railroad cracker factory, and electric lights

The merchandise received at the Baker City depot during the year 1887 amounted to 6900 tons, 300 tons of which was mining machinery 143 tons farm implements and wagons and the remainder of 5557 tons regular merchandise Baker City is the largest distributing point in Oregon outside of Portland

The wool shipped from Baker City in 1887 was 850 000 pounds and brought an average price of sixteen cents per pound

The hides pelts and furs sent out aggregated 100 000 pounds

Lumber shipments to the East commenced late in the season, and aggregated only about one and a half million feet

During the year 3000 cattle 10 000 sheep and 1000 horses were shipped

The gold product of the county aggregates several million dollars

Malheur County

This county occupies the southeastern corner of the state having been cut off from Baker county by the legislature in 1887 It embraces within its area about 5 000 000 acres a portion of which remains unsurveyed public domain furnishing fine pasturage to large bands of cattle horses and sheep It is for the most part high rolling hills high sage and grass covered mesa lands and valleys traversed by numerous small streams furnishing abundant water for irrigation and other purposes awaiting only the hand of capital or labor to conduct the waters by means of canals upon the fertile soil of the high lands

THE WATER COURSES

Of this county are numerous and carry continuously large volumes of water Flowing northward along the upper half of the eastern boundary is the Snake river the final repository of the running waters of the county The leading tributaries of Snake river in Malheur county are the Malheur and the Owyhee each of which drains extensive water beds by numerous tributaries The bottom land along all these streams are very fertile and frequently spread out into valleys of considerable width Some of this land lying back from the streams and slightly elevated above them requires irrigating to render it productive but the most of it is favorably located for that purpose and makes superb fruit and grain land At an early day gold placers were discovered on the Malheur and its western tributaries and as the richest ground was gradually worked out some few of the miners turned their attention to farming and stock raising generally confining their operations to the rich bottom lands Within the past few years many settlers have located on the dry lands along the Malheur and its tributaries and have by means of irrigating canals on a small scale reclaimed from a wild state fine farms which they operate profitably in conjunction with stock raising The Malheur valley proper is about four miles in width and some thirty miles long and is fairly well settled though there remain a number of good canal and land schemes for colonies

It is estimated that there are 60 000 acres in one body of land situated on the Oregon side of the Snake river below the mouth of the Owyhee which can be irrigated from the last named stream and which is regarded as choice for the production of grain and fruits

A canal company composed of Denver capitalists have now surveyed and commenced work on a fifty mile ditch taking the water out of the Owyhee at Butte and covering this fine body of land The ditch will carry 40 000 inches of water and will cost $50 000 Ontario is situated about twenty three miles below where the ditch first comes upon the land

THE OWYHEE

Drains an immense water shed Along its course and those of its tributaries—the Rattlesnake Jordan Soldier and others—there is much excellent land which might at small cost be reclaimed by irrigation while the vast table lands covered with bunch grass and sagebrush offer to the future capitalist some extensive canal enterprises Some few settlements have been made in Jordan Soldier and other valleys and there is room for quite an immigration there At present the Owyhee country is devoted chiefly to stock raising and it is estimated that 50 000 head of cattle are pastured there the year through besides numerous bands of sheep and horses The climate in the valleys throughout the county is generally mild and adapted to the raising of fruits such as peaches apples pears plums and all kinds of berries Colonies sufficiently strong in purse and muscle to take out irrigating canals would do well to give the Owyhee careful attention

The only mines in this county thus far operated with success are the gold placers of the Malheur and its tributaries discovered more than twenty years ago and still yielding some money Little or no prospecting for quartz ledges however has ever been done though it is believed lead and silver deposits as well as gold quartz will be discovered in paying quantities in the near future

The timber supply is limited and inferior except in the extreme northwest corner of the county where the great Eastern Oregon pine belt feathers out on the headwaters of Bully creek and except a considerable growth of cedar in the Cedar mountains

TOWNS

Many of the towns in the county are comparatively new though prosperous, with agricultural and stock raising resources enough behind them to insure steady growth

Vale is the county seat and is situated about fifteen miles or half way up the Malheur valley from the new town of Ontario on the Oregon Short Line railroad Up to the time of its creation as county seat it was a mere hamlet of a few families Since that auspicious event however, it has assumed the airs of a village and has grown to be a place of some importance with a population of several hundred

A few miles above the point where the Malheur empties into the Snake river the Oregon Short Line road crosses from Idaho into Oregon and enters the new town of Ontario which is the railroad point for the Owyhee and Malheur valleys Several large mercantile houses are located here and do a thriving business Considerable shipments of cattle sheep and wool are made to the East from this town which is the commercial center of the county and which bids fair to grow in importance with the settlement of the rich country back of it An effort is being made to have the county seat changed from Vale to Ontario

COAL

About ten miles north of Ontario where the bluffs on the Oregon side of Snake river rise abruptly from the water a vein of lignite coal was discovered and opened by tunnel some twenty years ago to supply the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's Snake river steamer with fuel The steamer was however soon withdrawn from the river after which the tunnel was allowed to cave in and little or no prospecting on the vein has since been done It is believed a better quality of coal can be developed than that formerly opened The property is now owned in Baker City and in La Grande

The property owned by the Oregon Real Estate Company and which is represented by the stock of said company to be sold as above set forth, consists principally of about fourteen hundred lots fifty by one hundred feet each situated in the choicest residence portion of the city of East Portland. That part of the property adjacent to the eastern terminus of the new iron bridge between Portland and East Portland will soon be desirable for business purposes while the high level land extending for a mile back from the river offers chances for homes that will be eagerly seized upon when the land is offered for sale in lots and blocks A year ago three of the leading real estate dealers of Portland appraised this property at over a half million of dollars and since then it has advanced considerably in value This stock is to be sold to pay off [illegible] claims against the estate of Ben Holladay [illegible]

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, JUNE 1.

A NEW OPPORTUNITY.

Part of the significance, and no small part, of the building of a railroad from the O. R. & N.'s system into the Coeur d'Alene mines will be the speedy demand for the construction at Portland of reduction works on a large scale. To build works on a sufficiently extended plan will demand an outlay of $250,000. The money must be raised by the mine owners and by the people of Portland. It will be a great paying investment, and will do as much as any other single enterprise possibly can to promote the growth of industry, business, population and wealth at Portland.

The ores of Coeur d'Alene are very easily reduced, and their richness is established. At Portland material for fluxes can be had as cheaply as anywhere in the world. Iron ores and limestone can be delivered at $2 a ton, and fuel is far more easy of obtainment than at most points where great reduction works are in operation.

Among the industries that have contributed to the growth of progress of Omaha the great reduction works in operation there hold a pre-eminent place. At Portland the conditions for prosecution of this great industry are in every way more favorable than at Omaha. Ores, fuel and material for fluxes are nearer at hand. Transportation by sea from Portland for lead, no inconsiderable part of the product, will give an advantage of several dollars a ton. Reduction of ores may soon become one of the greatest and most profitable of all our industries.

To this the railroad into the Coeur d'Alene mining district will open the way. This undertaking will create a new opportunity for Portland, and her citizens must take advantage of it.

TOUCHING SOLICITUDE.

Political opponents are circulating very industriously the statement that there are "trades" and "swaps" on hand in Multnomah county, by which certain candidates on the republican ticket are to be sacrificed to insure the election of others. The canvass here on the part of the democrats has settled down pretty nearly to this basis. They are whispering it about that Gearin is to be one of the beneficiaries of this alleged "deal," and Thompson, their candidate for sheriff, another. All stories of this kind are absolutely without foundation. Reference may be made here to an interview on this subject with Hon. L. T. Barin, chairman of the republican state committee, published on another page of this paper. Mr. Barin, as chairman of the committee, has been spending his whole time in Portland during the last four weeks in direction of the republican canvass. He is in position to know that all republicans are working in harmony and perfect good faith, and that these democratic stories are mere inventions. It is quite touching to note the industrious solicitude with which the democratic politicians are circulating the story that part of the republican candidates are to be "sold out," and begging all republican voters they can meet to retaliate by cutting other parts of the ticket so as to "rebuke such treachery."

GRESHAM FOR PRESIDENT.

Since the withdrawal of Blaine Gresham becomes the man whom all the other candidates fear most. He is the only man who has a growing strength, and consequently the contest for the nomination may be expected to reach the point best described in the words: "All the others against Gresham." It will be the instinctive purpose of the supporters of all other candidates to keep votes away from Gresham, and to this end they will work with ceaseless, and some of them, perhaps, with unscrupulous assiduity.

But Gresham is plainly the coming man. He represents the purposes of the republican masses as against those of the mere politicians of the party. In him the best character of republicanism is embodied; his nomination will deliver the party from the contention of its factions and place it in an unassailable position. Excellent ability and high character will be represented in his candidacy, and republicans of all sorts and antecedents can support him without feeling that they, or any of them, are called upon to accept rebuke or meet any humiliation.

Not since Grant was the candidate in 1872 has there been so clear an indication as to the right man for the republican nomination. In character, in public service, in war and peace, in ability and in availability, the name of Gresham stands for all that the republicans require in a candidate; and, unlike every other man for whom delegates are asked to vote, Gresham has not organized a force to work for his nomination, and will do nothing whatever to secure it. The nomination may come to him, but he will not seek it. Could any situation say more plainly, "This is the man?"

IRISH-AMERICAN VOTERS AGAIN.

We know that there are bigoted Protestants in all parties, but their number is very small in the republican ranks compared with their number in the democratic camp. The republicans more than once elected Gen. Joseph B. Carr, an Irish Roman Catholic, secretary of state in New York, while the democrats after nominating ex-United States Senator Francis Kernan for governor slaughtered him. The republicans of New York, who repeatedly nominated and elected an Irish Roman Catholic, Carr, secretary of state, were never bigoted enough to refuse to vote for Blaine, because he had a Roman Catholic mother. A Union veteran, the son of a German father, who suffered during the former know nothing excitement, writes the New York Press:

> The same Southern states where know nothingism and demogogy prevailed and where the foreign born element was the least did their best to ruin the country and adopt a different flag to the stars and stripes. The papers stated that the democratic assistant district attorney, Col. A. H. H. Dawson of Georgia, was one of the great patriots who wrote a letter giving fulsome praise to Mayor Hewitt and his utterances. Where did this man get his title? Was it not in the ranks of the Southern Confederacy battling against the stars and stripes and shooting down those who carried them?

Congressman Martin A. Foran of Ohio, an Irish-American, has failed to receive a renomination by the democracy of his district, and this defeat of Foran within his party is hailed as a free-trade victory, because Foran has openly declared his opposition to the president's tariff policy. John F. Finerty of Chicago, ex-member of congress, was formerly a democratic voter and was elected to congress as a democrat in 1882, but in 1884 he left the democracy and thousands of his countrymen in Illinois must have followed him into the republican party, for it is said that 30 per cent. of the Irish-Americans of Chicago vote the republican ticket. The New York Press reports that "Congressman McAdoo of New Jersey and O'Neil of Missouri are drifting in the same direction. Neither of these gentlemen can swallow the Mills bill; neither of them is base enough to be false to the instinct of a true American or a faithful Irishman."

The late Gen. R. S. Ripley, of South Carolina, a classmate of Gen. Grant's at West Point, a man of Northern birth, who fought on the side of the Confederates, was among the first to set the example of returning captured Union flags, when in January, 1875, he returned the flag of the Fifty-fourth Massachusetts (colored) regiment, captured at Fort Wagner, July 18, 1863. In his letter to Gov. Gaston, Gen. Ripley said:

> I prefer to look upon trophies of the character of the one in question as mementoes of the conduct of men, who, like Shaw, Putnam and other sons of Massachusetts, sealed their devotion to the cause they adopted, with their lives, rather than as evidences of prowess on the one side or the other. The custodians of such a memento should be the authorities of the state served by these gallant men, and I therefore transmit the flag to your excellency for such disposition as the authorities of Massachusetts shall determine.

This flag was considered as private property by Gen. Ripley, or at least had been retained by him when the confederacy fell. Of course it was really the property of the Confederate states until they fell, and then it became the property of the United States government in trust, to be returned to Massachusetts if it was a state flag. Ripley had no right to the flag, but he gave it up finally to the same hands that would have received it had the United States found it among the captured property of the Confederate states. Ripley antedated Cleveland in attempting to give away property that did not belong to him to dispose of, and, unlike Cleveland, he succeeded.

A FRUIT UNION.

California fruit growers have organized a union for the sale of their products and to secure to the orchardists of that state all their products are worth. Oregon is becoming a fruit producing state and will soon need to have such an organization among fruit growers to secure for them a fair show in the markets of the country. Our state and people will have the example and experience of California to go by in this matter, and it is time now that fruit men were organized so as to be able to co-operate and work together in all respects. A committee of the North Pacific Fruit Growers' Association was appointed at the May meeting to examine and report on the question of incorporating the society under the laws of Oregon, so that it can thus co-operate on a legal basis. That committee recommend (or will) that the society name be the Oregon State Horticultural Society instead, because the other name is too general for a society that must ask for specific legislation. This change meets the approval of all members, so far as known. The membership can include fruit growers from the neighboring territory, as it now does.

The next meeting of the society will be held at the council chamber, Portland, at 10 A. M., on the second Tuesday of July, and all fruit growers should make it a special object to be present and become members.

If this association can include all the prominent fruit growers of our state, then it will be in readiness to ask for legislation to protect orchards, and take other steps to secure the best good of those who produce fruits in Oregon. One of the most important ends to attain will be to organize such a medium of exchange, or commerce in fruits as the California Fruit Union. Then by another year the further success of the California Union will demonstrate whether or no such an organization is feasible. If they make a success of their fruit union, the fruit growers of this state will have an example to follow, and not be working blindly and without experience.

Already the fruit union of California has done good work. It has sent agents to open connection with Eastern cities, and in several of them has organized a system for the sale of fruits at auction that has proved a success. It is opening new markets and developing a wider field for disposal of such products, and thus prevents competition being confined in too small an area. Oregonians have much to learn of enterprise and energy in business, and can afford to take lessons from their neighbors. The first thing to be done is to organize Oregon producers in a form to co-operate, and that can best be done by membership in the society that will meet on Tuesday, July 10.

THE PROPHET OF REFORM.

The National Civil Service Reform League held its annual meeting on Tuesday last, and was addressed by George William Curtis. Mr. Curtis is evidently not satisfied with President Cleveland as a reformer, but he made no allusion to the fact that in New York city at the recent democratic state convention President Cleveland's civil-service rule forbidding officeholders to take an active part in primaries, was utterly disregarded. The democratic employes of the custom house, internal revenue and other federal departments, were present in full force. Among those present and active in the convention were Deputy Collector Mason, secretary of the custom-house civil-service commission; Deputy Collector McClelland, Surveyor Beattie, Deputy Collector Jones, Disbursing Officer Hart, Deputy Collector Davies, Chief Clerk McGee, and Superintendent Whalen of the custom house, and United States Special Agent Holahan. Among other federal officers present at the convention were Collector Martin, of the port of Genesee; Wm. A. Beach, internal revenue collector of Syracuse; J. A. Hanlon, internal revenue collector of Buffalo; David S. Hackney, postmaster of Fort Plain; Jasper N. Hammond, Seneca Falls; Col. Lodewick, postal agent, and Walter H. Bunn, United States Marshal for the Northern District of New York.

Among the delegates to the state convention of the Vermont democracy that elected delegates to the St. Louis convention no less than forty were in the pay of the federal government, including twenty-five postmasters. The convention was conducted under the beck and nod of Hiram Atkins, editor and proprietor of an influential democratic newspaper, himself a federal office-holder. The Springfield Republican (Cleveland mugwump organ) makes the following protest against the conduct and methods of this New England local democratic "boss":

> Great harm must come to the administration in New England because of the terrorism which this man has been permitted to employ without rebuke or molestation. He assumes to pledge and allot the federal patronage, to bulldoze and expel from the public service competent servants of the people, and when self-respecting men decline to accede to the demands of this presuming boss he proceeds with an effort to "make out a case" against them which will serve to carry his point with the authorities at Washington. Atkins has been permitted to revolutionize and disorganize the postal service of Vermont to a point unknown in the neighboring states. Just at present Atkins has been employing his office-holders in "setting up" the caucuses preliminary to the democratic state convention, in order that he may retain the chairmanship of the state committee.

Did the national civil service reform league ever hear of this Mr. Atkins, President Cleveland's "supervising architect of public buildings at Montpelier, Vermont," who appears to be making kindling wood of civil service reform with his little hatchet?

Creed Haymond, who is to "head" the delegation from California to the republican national convention, is reported as having said that, after Blaine, the entire Pacific coast delegation will support Stanford for the presidential nomination. The entire Pacific coast delegation will do nothing of the kind. It is doubtful whether Stanford, one of the most conspicuous representatives of railroad interests, could carry a state in the Union. Haymond himself is an employe of Stanford's, being the leading attorney for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Stanford is an able and enterprising man, and has done great things for the Pacific coast; but the people do not want a railroad magnate for president. The same objection lies against Depew of New York, and therefore neither Stanford nor Depew should be thought of in connection with the nomination.

The Wasco Sun says that Mr. Gearin in his speech at The Dalles "presented a calculation as to the amount of tariff a man paid on the clothes he wore, showing that as he stood the tariff on his own clothes was about $11 25." Mr. Gearin no doubt had on a handsome suit of English goods, made up by a Portland tailor. But if he wants to get cheap clothes, why don't he advocate free trade in woolens as well as in wool? His granger friends no doubt are willing enough that he shall continue to pay the duty on English goods if he will persist in wearing them; but they don't like the proposition to compel them to submit to free trade in wool while the American manufacturer is still heavily protected upon his woolens. We suspect that when Mr. Gearin reads the election returns in THE OREGONIAN next Tuesday morning he will conclude that this tariff business is a dangerous thing to monkey with.

A railroad into the Coeur d'Alene mining district means heavy smelting works at Portland; these smelting works mean large production of lead, and large production of lead means an establishment for turning out the material that forms the basis of paint—white lead—and a white lead establishment will be the supplement of the linseed works soon to be established here. These things all grow together. For this country, and for Portland as its chief city, there is a future of which only a few have yet dreamed and perhaps none have fully anticipated.

Among recent deaths is that of Rev. Edward Thompson, a famous laborer in the anti-slavery cause, who died at East Walpole, Massachusetts, on the 22d inst., aged 79. He was of Quaker ancestry, and his extraordinary faculty for apt illustration by anecdote attracted the attention of Wendell Phillips, who persuaded him to take the platform in 1838. He found Frederick Douglass, just escaped from slavery and a day laborer, in his audience at New Bedford in 1838, and stirred him to employ his abilities in the cause.

A special to the New York Tribune from Washington says the amendments to the Mills bill, proposed by democratic members, have been piling in upon the clerks of the house at the rate of fifty a day, and make a bulk greater than twice the original bill. Alas, that "nearly every democratic member finds himself sponsor for half a dozen amendments, for which he must secure consideration to satisfy important manufacturing interests in his district, or take the consequences, which imply probable defeat."

If the democratic party was not altogether and infamously wrong during the war period, Mr. John P. Irish has nothing to be ashamed of in the "copperhead record" we have republished. Those utterances reflect the sentiment and spirit of his party during that period; they were written because they pleased the party and gave expression to its feelings, and the man who is not ashamed of the democratic party has no reason to be ashamed of them.

The dispatch of the United Presbyterian Assembly to Mrs. Sheridan, announcing that it had offered up "fervent prayers for the recovery and spiritual welfare of your distinguished husband," was well intended, but not expressed with tact. Gen. Sheridan had already received the last rites of the Roman Catholic church at the hands of his spiritual advisers, and so the "prayers for his spiritual welfare" might gracefully have been omitted.

Says the Wasco Sun, a democratic paper that advocates the Mills bill: "The manufacturer has had twenty-five years of high protection, but he has reached the end of his tether. The people are awakening to their own interests, and will have no more of it." This, for an organ that advocates free wool and protected woolens is cool assumption.

By inadvertence in writing a head line John P. Irish was reported in THE OREGONIAN of yesterday as having spoken at Monmouth, Polk county, last Monday. In fact he spoke at Independence, in that county. This correction is almost unnecessary, since it was shown in the body of the matter that he spoke at Independence.

A democratic paper of Oregon boastfully says: "Grover Cleveland will have the electoral vote of every Southern state." Of course he will. But if Jefferson Davis were the candidate he would also have the electoral vote of every Southern state, and by vastly greater popular majorities.

Now comes the time of chagrin and disappointment for the democratic brethren who were determined to nominate Blaine.

WHAT ENGLAND WANTS.

PORTLAND, May 31, 1888.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

In looking over papers in my possession I came to-day upon a pamphlet issued some years ago by the "Free Trade Club," of London," from which I make this extract:

> Let it be understood once for all that the salvation of England depends upon the destruction of American manufactures, and that the only possible way in which American manufactures can be destroyed is by free trade. This can only come through democracy, and democracy can only secure control of this republic by the votes of Irishmen. How England must laugh in her sleeve as she sees the men who left their homes vowing vengeance serve her interests by working for a party which, if it gets control of the country, will inevitably carry out the policy she most desires.

Can American citizens of foreign birth approve this? Do they not see the tendency to this under the policy of the present administration? The Mills tariff bill, besides being unfair, as you show, in its discriminations against particular interests and sections of our own country, plays directly into the hands of foreigners in many ways, and particularly into the hands of the English wool-growers in Australia. Is it not time to see this, and high time to act? CITIZEN.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST ORES.

OFFICE OF FREE PRESS,
GRANGEVILLE, Idaho, May 27, 1888.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Here is a suggestion for the Portland Board of Trade to digest at its leisure. The freight rate on a ton of wheat from Lewiston to Portland is $6. The freight rate on a ton of ore from Lewiston to Portland is $13 60. Ore is shipped in stout sacks, and makes small, compact parcels, which are much more easily handled and are less liable to injury by rain, breaking or handling than wheat. Then why the discrepancy in freight rates? Both are products of the interior country, and with a reduction of ore freights to the same rate as wheat, Idaho county alone can furnish the Portland Reduction Works with a thousand carloads of ore per year. Cannot the Portland Board of Trade use its influence with the O. R. & N. Co. to reduce its freight rates on ore to the same price as wheat? A. F. PARKER.

"Not Bulk, But Business!"

Is the way a Western man put it in expressing to a friend his complete satisfaction in the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. So small and yet so effectual, they bid fair to supplant entirely the old-style pill. An ever ready remedy for Sick and Bilious Headache, Biliousness, Constipation and all blood disorders. Mild in action, wonderful in effect! Put up in vials, convenient to carry. Their use attended with no discomfort! These sterling merits account for their great popularity.

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

DONALD ROSS, Esq., Manager Northwest Department, Pacific Mutual Life Insurance:

DEAR SIR—Many thanks to you and the excellent company you represent for prompt payment of policy insuring my husband, the late J. C. Miller, who died on the 12th day of this month. His policy calls for $2000, and I received $319 32 (in dividend additions) making in all $2319 32. This is more than I expected. I heartily commend this company to all desiring life insurance, and hope ere long to show my unqualified confidence in the company by taking a policy on my own life. MRS. J. C. MILLER.
Portland, May 31, 1888.

MRS. J. C. MILLER:

DEAR MADAM—Your kind acknowledgment received. The Pacific Mutual Life maintains an enviable record for prompt payment and fair dealing. As a rule checks are issued on the day claim papers are received at the home office. You can unhesitatingly commend the company. No other has larger paying ability in proportion to its liabilities, or is more liberal, or has brighter prospects with 5½ larger interest receipts. Let me bespeak your influence and aid in favor of Edward C. Frost, my trustworthy successor, as general agent for Oregon, while I retain general management for northwest department as heretofore.
Yours truly, DONALD ROSS.

IN AND ABOUT PORTLAND.

He Got No Sympathy.—The man who was knocked down with a stone by a "bad gambler" at the corner of First and Washington streets the other morning was one Walker from Middleton Washington county. He is evidently not a very good man himself, as he states that he had been sitting asleep in the Club saloon, when the bad gambler undertook to rob him of $10 and this brought on the row in which Mr. Walker got his head pounded with a rock. When he went to the jail or station he was very insulting and abusive to the policemen who were assisting him in washing the blood from his face and head, and narrowly escaped being locked up as drunk and disorderly. People who come to town and get drunk and go to sleep in saloons where gamblers resort may expect to be robbed, and if they are abusive also are likely to get but little sympathy. If Mr. Walker can't do better than this he had better stay at home and save a headache.

For a Library Building.—Judge Deady has recently secured subscriptions to the fund for a library building amounting to $20,000. Of this Mr. Henry Failing subscribed $10,000, Mr. E. S. Kearney $5,000 and Mr. W. K. Smith $5,000. In 1871 Judge Deady raised $10,000, which has been at interest ever since, and which with the donation of the late M. W. Fechheimer in land worth about $2000 and from Stephen Skidmore amounts now to about $2[illegible],000, making in all $4[illegible],000. Judge Deady intends to raise $30,000 more and will receive subscriptions in sums as low as $5,000, but no less, two-fifths payable this year and the remainder next year. It is intended to construct the foundation for the library building this year and complete it in 1889.

Shipping Ore to Portland.—The Ketchum Keystone says: "The First National bank of this place is buying ore direct for the Portland and other reduction works. It has shipped about ten carloads of sundry ores in the past two or three weeks. The regular rate is the same to Portland, Omaha, Denver and Kansas City, viz: $34 for freight and treatment. In the case of desirable dry ores, however, the former works have offered a special rate of $2 or $3 less. The Portland reduction works are virtually buying the entire product of Upper Wood river, and have been known to contract for ores with the provision of conforming their rates to any change in the railroad tariff and are hopeful that such reduction can be effected in this portion of Idaho."

Collected a Debt Illegally.—Yomiah and Kussa, two Warm Springs Indians, were arraigned in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of larceny. They refused to enter any plea and the court ordered a plea of not guilty entered. The two Indians took, stole and drove away and sold one spotted steer and one red cow, the property of a widow woman in the Warm Springs reservation. They claim that the husband of this woman when alive promised them a cow or steer apiece, but after he was dead she repudiated the debt so they helped themselves. The aboriginal mind cannot understand the doctrine of meum et tuum as the pale face does in some instances. The court will probably instruct them on this point.

Land Office Business in Citizenship.—Geo Patges, Max Lystrup and Herman J Korell, natives of Denmark, and Emil Maiss, a native of Germany, were admitted to citizenship by Judge Shattuck yesterday. Chris Kelly and Pat Madden, natives of Ireland; H C Bstler, a native of Norway; Wm Feldman, a native of Switzerland, and Mansutta Tavelli, Luigi Tavelli, John Tavelli, Antonio Delbrasso and Guiseppi Rho, natives of Italy, were admitted to citizenship by Judge Stearns. Declarations of intention of becoming citizens were filed with the county clerk by August Taubert, a native of Germany, Isidore Goldsmith and Anton Brunold, natives of Austria, and John Sealy, a subject of Queen Victoria.

Charge of Larceny Dismissed.—The case of Frank A Dunham, charged with assaulting A Leon Johnson in his shirt factory, and with having taken some shirts and money from the till, while Johnson went out to look for an officer, came up in the police court yesterday. Dunham acknowledged that in a quarrel concerning some money which he says Johnson owes him, but which Johnson denies, he struck Johnson. The court fined Dunham $5 for assault and battery, and dismissed the charge of larceny. Dunham has worked for a number of years in this city and has borne a good character for honesty.

Will Call Here for Flour.—A dispatch was received here yesterday from Vancouver B C, stating that the Canadian Pacific Company's steamship Zambesi, shortly due at San Francisco, will call here for 1200 tons of flour offered. She will arrive June 10 and will sail on the 17th. A thousand tons of the flour are in sight and the other 200 will probably be provided. Although it is the hot season at Hong Kong, no one cares to ship flour on speculation, as there is danger of it spoiling if not sold at once. There will probably be a lot of groceries, etc., shipped from here if rates are satisfactory.

The Regiment Complimented.—Numerous and flattering were the compliments expressed on account of the creditable appearance presented by the First regiment, O N G, in the parade Memorial day. Col. Charles F Beebe has been the recipient of many hearty congratulations, in behalf of the regiment, while the several company officers have been complimented for the active parts they took. These expressions of pride are highly encouraging and stimulate both officers and men to do better. Precision and alacrity told the story of the many battalion and regimental drills had last winter.

Friendly Boat Race.—There will be another four-oared race next Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Both crews are made up from the P R A club-house, and the race promises to be a good one as there is a great deal of friendly rivalry existing between the crews. The following are the names of the oarsmen: Coffee, Lee, Quackinbush and E W Moore will pull against McLain, Marion, Prael and Sanderson Reed.

Mining Incorporation.—Articles incorporating the Inez Mining Company were filed with the county clerk yesterday by Van B DeLashmutt, Harrison B Oatman and Charles W Knowles. The object is to engage in the development of mines, buy and sell real estate, operate smelters and smelting works and deal in mining stocks. Capital, $1,000,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares. Principal office in Portland.

Republican Speaking To-night.—Judge George H Williams will speak at the court house to-night on present political issues. It is hardly necessary to say that those who attend will be certain to hear an able argument in behalf of the republican party—an argument worthy of attention from any English speaking people in the world.

For Constable North Precinct.—Mr. Pitt A Eddy, who has been engaged in business in the north end for the past eight years under the style of Eddy & Kern, is a candidate for constable in the North precinct. He is better known in North Portland, where he has long resided, and bears an excellent reputation.

Excursion and Picnic.—The North Portland and Albina Presbyterian Sunday schools to Columbia grove, Saturday, June 2. Steamer Salem leaves foot of Washington street at 8:30 A M sharp, Albina at 9 and Columbia dock, in North Portland at 9:15. Tickets at boat, 50 and 25 cents round trip.

Hospital Breaking Ground.—The ceremony of breaking ground for the erection of the new wing of the Good Samaritan hospital, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Bishop Morris, the Rev Mr Costello, Dr Holt C Wilson and Dr S E Josephi.

Unitarian Excursion.—Arrangements are now complete for to-morrow's excursion. The committee desire that all who attend be on the boat, off Ash street dock, by 8 o'clock, as the festival will be held whether it rain or shine. Go with the expectation of having a pleasant time.

Lighter, Cheaper, and Better than the Best Rubber Hose,
Made on the same principle as the rubber-lined hose used in Fire Departments, which last for years.
The cotton duck used in all rubber hose draws in water, wherever exposed, as a wick absorbs oil, and being confined by rubber generates a sulphurous gas, quickly destroying the best rubber hose. The "Spiral" Hose having no outside covering to imprison the moisture, will dry like a towel.
There are imitations, so buy only that which has one red line running through it, and which is branded "Spiral," patented March 30, '80. If your dealer does not have it in stock, let him get it.

ST. GEORGE HOTEL

PROPERTY AND FURNITURE,

PORTLAND,

Will be sold at auction, to settle up an estate. The property consists of a quarter of a block of land and a

Three-Story Fire-Proof Building and a Two-Story Residence.

It is on the main business street of the city, two blocks from the new railroad depot, and is considered the most favorably located hotel in Portland. The location is such that its rapid enhancement in value is certain.

The house can be kept crowded with first-class guests without 'bus or runners. As a speculation, this is a rare opportunity. As an investment, it is certain of large interest returns. As a location for business, it is one of the choicest in Portland. The building is comparatively new, having been erected five years ago. A brick and cemented basement extends the full size of the building. Terms of sale, one-half cash, balance on long time.

MINES AND MINING.

A Glimpse at the Growing Prosperity of Cœur d'Alene.

Mines Newly Bonded—Lime Rock and Asbestos Discovered—Burke and Canyon Creek—Lodes Near Mullan.

Cœur d'Alene Notes.

From the Murray Sun.

J. F. Wardner has bought a ten-stamp mill for his Elk creek property.

A pan assay made on Saturday from an ounce of quartz, in which no free gold was perceptible, from Louis Block's new discovery on Bald mountain returned $320 per ton. The ounce of quartz yielded a one cent button of gold after passing through the processes of panning, quicking and retorting.

MINES BONDED.

Correspondence Spokane Review.

The Argentine continues to improve.

The Gem has another car ready for shipment.

The Tiger has averaged over forty tons daily since early in the month.

A. M. Esler has bonded the Bell mine on Silver creek, above Burke, for $60,000. He still keeps a finger in the South Fork pie.

Billy Haskins returned to Wallace yesterday after a week's absence at Portland. The trade with O. B. Hardy for the Black Bear group has been consummated and Billy is himself again.

The Just What and You Like claims, located near Mullan, were bonded this week to Frank J. Davey, of Helena. The first payment has been made and a force of men will be put to work and development work speedily pushed.

A NEW CAMP.

From the Wallace Free Press.

Work was again begun on the California mine the first of the week. Tom Lynch has a 400-foot contract and will put three shifts to work. The upper tunnel, where the vein was tapped some months ago, will also be worked.

E. G. Arment has at his hotel several chunks of lime rock, taken from a point near town and but a quarter of a mile from the railroad. He thinks it is fully 75 per cent. lime and says there is any amount of it. In the same locality he discovered what is considered a good quality of fire clay.

A. E. Angel exhibited at the Free Press office yesterday a specimen of mineralized rock with streaks of asbestos running all through it. It was taken from the King Solomon tunnel, near the surface. This property is owned by Messrs. Angel, Farnsworth & McGill and is located about a mile west of town. This is said to be the first discovery of the kind in Cœur d'Alene.

A subscription of $125 has been raised to build a trail from Wallace into the St. Joe country. The new camp to which this trail leads is about twelve miles south of Wallace and eight miles from St. Joe river. The eight or ten men who wintered there have done considerable work and the prospects are reported as very encouraging. If one is acquainted with the route the trip can be made either afoot or horseback with little difficulty. And so the building of a trail is not a big undertaking.

GRANITE STATE AND GRANITE MINES.

The work commenced on the Granite State some weeks ago has progressed most favorably. Three shifts have been employed and the tunnel they are running is in seventy odd feet. In the solid formation we are told they make about eighteen inches a day. The workings on this claim are very near the point where ore is being taken from the Granite and it seems easy to calculate that they have the same vein, and when the present length of the tunnel is doubled the owners expect to demonstrate it.

The man who would see mineral in quantity should visit the Granite mine. He can see shining galena exposed near the surface; in the tunnel it seems to glisten on all sides; and on the dumps there are huge piles of it, some of which must be concentrated and much of it absolutely clean ore. It is said that $100,000 would not overestimate the value of the ore on the Granite dump. There has been no ore shipped from here for quite a while on account of the unfavorable conditions in getting it to market, but it has been taken out right along. It will be necessary to haul up considerable material for the tramway, and ore will be hauled down to the railroad. By the time the concentrator is completed the lower tunnel will have reached ore and the mine be in condition to turn out large quantities of ore.

CANYON CREEK.

A favorable strike is reported in the Bell mine.

The town of Burke is improving fast, both in size and appearance. Most of the buildings are being newly painted and many of them remodeled and refitted inside, some exceptionally fine.

The framing timbers of the Poorman concentrator are mostly in place. It is a very large building and will be an exceedingly strong one. The many men employed on this structure give much new life and activity to the camp.

The Orcornogo lode is being worked by quite a large force of men. The development work at present is being done in the crosscut tunnel, hence no favorable results are yet anticipated. They are gaining depth very rapidly and will cut the lode a long distance below the surface.

The clearing for the Granite tramway is now progressing. It is said that the distance from the mine to the mill is 8000 feet, and the cost of construction is placed in the neighborhood of $14,000. Quite a number of men are engaged in grading for the concentrator building and ditching. Carpenters are being engaged for the work.

The Little Chap lode, owned by D. T. Anderson and others, is now being worked and looks very encouraging. A shaft, which has been sunk inside the adit about twenty feet from the mouth at a depth of thirty feet, exposes a vein of ore fourteen inches wide, most of which is clear mineral. Some fine specimens of chrystalized lead have been taken out of the vein in sinking the shaft. The owners intend to work the property continually this season.

MULLAN MINES.

There is great improvement and renewed activity of the mines and prospects in the neighborhood of Mullan. The Morning stands prominently among the leading properties of this section, the development thus far made upon this ledge giving promise of a grand mine. The main tunnel has been run in a distance of 400 feet, which exposed a streak of ore the entire distance. From the breast of this tunnel a crosscut has been run a distance of forty feet, which shows good mineral matter throughout the entire distance, but no wall has yet been seen. At one point in this crosscut there was passed through a six-foot vein of ore composed of spar and galena, fully one-third of which is clean mineral, which they claim will average 60 per cent. in lead and 45 ounces in silver. It is estimated there is fully 500 tons of ore on the dump at the mouth of this adit, all of which has been taken out independent of any stoping. Another tunnel is in operation at a point 150 feet lower. Its appearance is similar in many respects to the one above described. There is probably less clean mineral extracted from the lode in this level, but it will concentrate equally as much to the ton. The course of the ledge is supposed to be northwest and southeast.

The evening lode, which adjoins the Morning, has been bonded to Messrs. Eckert & Burke. At present they are working but a small force of men. We are informed they intend to increase this in a few days. Considerable surface work has been done on this, the result of which has been to strip or expose the vein on the surface thirty feet in width a distance of sixty feet. It is a fine body of concentrating ore. A cross-cut is being run to cut this ore body about 300 feet deeper. The said cross-cut tunnel is now in 300 feet and they expect to intersect the ledge proper in running forty feet further. It is supposed by some that a fault is in existence at this point. Should this be the case it may interfere in a measure with their calculations.

Parallel to the Morning and Evening lodes and lying east of them are the Just What and You Like lodes. They have but little development, but show up very promisingly for the work done. Large bodies of ore have been disclosed and some portions of them seem to be almost pure lead, having without doubt passed through some smelting operation by the laws of nature. It certainly displays every indication of having come in contact with excessive heat at some time.

East of this lode and almost parallel with it is the Gettysburg, owned by George Hammond and others. It contains a fine ledge of ore, large seams of concentrating ore lying exposed to view, where the vein has been stripped for sixty feet in width. An adit has been run on the vein 150 feet, showing a fine grade of galena throughout its entire distance. The owners of this promising property have from seventy-five to 100 tons of fine concentrating ore piled up, which has been taken out in opening up the ledge to the limited extent it has been developed.

East of this claim lies the famous Hunter mine, the most wonderful ledge in this section, or, we might say with perfect safety, in the entire Cœur d'Alenes. How applicable the expression "a mountain of mineral" seems in this case. Throughout the entire development—and it has been quite extensive—no walls have yet been discovered. Large bodies of ore have been disclosed, some containing richer ore than is found in any other lode in this section. The property is easy of access and well located; the rock breaks well and the tunnels can be run cheaper and easier than on most lodes of much less merit. Everything connected with this mine is in first-class order.

Two miles east of the Hunter we find the Daisy, owned by John Lenihan and others. The workings in this mine are quite limited and poorly directed. There has been three tunnels run on the vein with an incline, the longest not being more than 130 feet in length. A body of ore has been disclosed which is forty feet in width, with no walls yet discovered. The ore body seems to be more in the nature of a deposit, consisting largely of chlorides. Galena and gray copper are found in considerable quantities. Quite a number of prospects have been found in this neighborhood, but space forbids further description.

With these splendid ore bodies and promising prospects surrounding her, Mullan at no distant day must be a thrifty, flourishing and prosperous mining camp, the success of which may be attributed in a great measure to the efforts and stability of a few men. Prominent among these may be mentioned the name of F. M. Frank, at one time a large owner in the Hunter and afterward making special efforts toward the development of the Morning and Evening, three of the principal properties of this section. His faith in the mines of this section is unlimited, and it is owing in a great measure to his exertions that the camp has gained the prominent position it has at this time. MESMER.

The magical cure of colds and coughs, with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, is indisputable. As a family medicine it is unequaled.

And on Saturday [illegible] 1888, at the hour of [illegible] court house [illegible] the above described [illegible] highest bidder [illegible] said warrant [illegible]

Dated May [illegible]

There is only a light movement and almost no business doing. Buyers will not rush in as they did past season, and to growers the song of low markets, no demands and tariff changes has been so persistently sung that they think they can do a little speculation in holding. In the interior sales are infrequent and usually of small parcels of common, at not above 12c. This market is nominally 10@14c. There is no competition at present among buyers, and all appear to think there is no necessity for competing. Those representing Eastern firms or expecting to buy for shipment say they are told to go slow for the present, as there is no indication of early market changes for the better. San Francisco reports several buyers as being busy, although the market is not really active. Eastern advices contain little of new interest, and the Western markets show no particular activity. The Mills bill will certainly not become a law, and it is not believed that the present congress will amend or change the wool tariff in the least. Nevertheless the agitation is giving Eastern consumers a club that they swing diligently. New York has re-shipped to Belgium 500 to 600 bales carpet wools.

HIDES, ETC.—Only a dull market, values for the most part being easy. Quotations of leading sorts are: Dry beef hides 8@10c per lb, culls 6@7c, kip and calf 8@10c, green salted 4@5c, kip and calf 6c, culls one-third off; valley deerskins 27½@32½c, and Eastern Oregon 22½@27½c for summer and winter; elk skins 22@18c, sheep pelts 20@80c for short to medium wooled, 90c@1 25 for long and 10@12c for murrain; beaver 75c to $2 per lb; bear 60c to $8 brown and 50c to $12 black. Tallow quoted 3@3½c.

HAY—Four cars in by rail during the week. Dealers carry a full stock and are slow buyers as a rule. Best timothy is quoted $15@16 and rather weak, as holders are desirous of closing out old stock. Inferior grades dull at the usual decline from choice.

★ Every Symptom Gone. ★

Probably there is no disease which inflicts so much continuous pain as Rheumatism. When it becomes chronic there are few more difficult to effect a cure. Over no single complaint has Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy won more brilliant victories than Rheumatism. By its use the agonized patient can once more use his limbs, and is freed from the shackles that have bound him, perhaps for years. Mr. Frank Strait, a well known merchant of New Hampton, N. Y., says: I suffered tortures with

HORRIBLE INHERITANCE

The transmission of the fearful effects of contagious blood poison is certainly the most horrible inheritance which any man can leave to his innocent posterity. The curse contained in the Scriptural declaration: "The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation," can be certainly mitigated, and in the majority of cases, prevented, by the use of the antidote to the contagious blood poison which Nature herself furnishes, and which is to be found in its native purity and infallible efficacy in the remedy known all over the world as Swift's Specific—commonly called "S. S. S." As illustrative of this fact, we give the following evidence—they are test cases, taken at random from hundreds of others of similar character:

Mr. J. H. Brown, of Hornellsville, N. Y., writes: Three years I suffered with this horrible disease. Swift's Specific cured me completely.

Prof. Edwin Baar, 234 E. Twenty-second street, New York, writes: Swift's Specific cured me of a fearful case of Blood Poison.

Dr. B. F. Wingfield, of the Soldier's Home, Richmond, Va., writes: Swift's Specific cured me of a severe case of Blood Poison.

D. W. E. Briggs, Brooklyn, N. Y.: I was a perfect wreck from Blood Poison. Specific restored health and hope, and I am well to-day.

C. W. Langhill, Savannah, Ga.: I have suffered a long time with Blood Poison. I tried Swift's Specific and am now a perfectly well man.

A. W. Buell, of Power's Hotel, Rochester, N. Y., writes: It is the best blood remedy on earth. I cured myself with it. I recommended it to a friend of mine, a well know business man, and it made him well.

Mr. F. L. Stanton, editor of the Smithville, Ga., News, writes that a friend of his was afflicted with a severe case of Blood Poison, and that two bottles of S. S. S. effected a complete cure. He tried every other remedy in vain.

Mr. J. R. Kellogg, Stamford, Conn., writes, December 16, 1887: Your S. S. S. is doing for me what ought to have been done long ago. It has done me more good in one week than all the medicines I have ever taken. Would I had gotten it before! But "all's well that ends well." It will make a new man of me, and I thank God that I have found it at last!

THE BASEBALL BOOM.

Four Games Between Four Good Clubs Saturday and Sunday

The Western baseball nine of San Francisco arrived in the city yesterday morning and will play the Portlands Saturday and Sunday afternoons on the White House grounds Four men—Paul McCarthy Geo Bentle Hughey Cannon and Joe Calhoun—also came up, and will play ball all summer with the Portlands. Mullee and Burke left last night and will arrive here Saturday morning. All are staying at the Quimby house

Wm Whalley the manager of the Westerns, feels very confident of winning at least one game He was looking around last night for an umpire Charles Ford always gave satisfaction with his decisions and if he is up on the new rules would probably do so again The Westerns are all young fellows but look as if they could play ball They were up to the White House yesterday afternoon practicing, and express themselves as satisfied with the grounds The following is the personel of the two nines for Saturday's game

Westerns.		Portlands

Manager Whalley of the Westerns has expressed a strong desire to play with the Willamettes before he takes his nine home.

The Seattle Browns and Willamettes play two games one to morrow and one Sunday, on the Clinton & McCoy grounds, East Portland

Common expression among admirers of the game "We'll have to devote two days to baseball one in East Portland and one at the White house"

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS FOUND

How Two Bondsmen in Iowa Denied Their Signatures

There arrived here this week a postoffice inspector in search of testimony and he got it The story connected with his visit is decidedly interesting Eleven years ago H C Smith was appointed postmaster of the town of Scranton Green county Iowa His bondsmen were Silas Hansen and Andrew Hupp The bond was signed before a notary public named Barnes, who signed his name as a witness to the instrument. In the rear of the postoffice J H Zane had a printing office and he was called in as the other witness A year or so after Mr Zane went West Some time after the notary Barnes, died The postmaster defaulted and his bondsmen thinking that Mr Zane could not be found, denied their signatures and said Smith had forged them on his bond The fact that Smith had been charged with forgery before gave a color of truth to their statement

However Uncle Sam was determined to investigate the matter and he traced up Mr Zane who spent four years in Dakota and has been in Oregon for five years and found him working in the office of Geo H Himes A postoffice inspector called there a day or two since and took Mr Zane's deposition and Mr Smith's bondsmen will probably have to make good his defalcation and will be lucky if they get off with that

SIXTY MILES TO MOUNT RANIER

The Motto Adopted by a Tacoma Hotel Keeper After Dear Experience

A good joke is told on a Tacoma hotel proprietor A stranger who had boarded with him a week or so asked the proprietor how far it was to Mount Ranier which appeared to be scarcely a couple of miles distant [illegible] though nearer a hundred The proprietor winked at the guest and said that perhaps it was a mile away The boarder said he believed he would walk out to it for exercise The landlord encouraged the tenderfoot who after borrowing the proprietor's fine spyglass immediately departed The joke was too rich for the landlord to keep and he treated all hands at the bar and chuckled to think that he had played it [illegible] The boarder however [illegible] [illegible]

THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

No Explanation Yet of the Change from Portland to Seattle

J J Meagher president of the Portland Volunteer Firemen's Association says there is going to be a tournament here whether Seattle has one or not "We have raised a little less than $500 for the proposed tournament, he said yesterday, "and we propose having one Our committee has made only a superficial canvass of the city and our work is only one-third done We will go to work and raise between $1200 and $1500 besides which we will offer in prizes two trumpets one given by Mayor Van B De Lashmutt and the other by the Exempt Firemen's Association All teams which intend to come to Portland and which have no hose carts can use our carts likewise they can have the use of our tender The Walla Walla team has signified its intention of coming and probably Spokane Falls will attend Every team in the tournament except Seattle and Astoria will be here We don't propose to be fooled by Seattle or Astoria or any place, and we will give a tournament that will make theirs look small Seattle and Astoria will have to have a picnic by themselves

Mr Meagher insists that there was nothing fair in changing the place of holding the tournament to Seattle He maintains that the whole matter was left with him and offers the following letters in support of his position They are self explanatory

SEATTLE W T, March 9 1888

Joseph J Meagher Dear Sir A letter from Frank F Parker secretary of the Northwestern Firemen's Association, enclosed me a letter from Robert Holman of your city tendering his resignation as a member of the executive committee for the association next June Mr Holman suggests your name for the place Mr Parker (secretary) also suggests that the whole matter of the tournament be left with the Volunteers of Portland and I concur I certainly think that business would be expedited and matters run more evenly if you had the entire management and appointment of all committees and would suggest that you take this method with power to appoint all subordinate committees, fill all vacancies and in fact have full power and control over all matters pertaining thereto I mention this matter to you to get at a solution of the difficulties that are constantly presenting themselves to us

I hope you will think favorably of this proposition and notify Mr Parker at Astoria of the result I have written him advising such action on your part G KELLOGG

President Northwestern Firemen's Association.

Here is another which has no date It bears the seal of the association

J J Meagher President Volunteer Firemen's Association, Portland Or Dear Sir—Yours to G Kellogg of Seattle is with me to answer Thanks for your acceptance as chairman of the committee on general management of tournament of 1888 This notifies you that the entire management of this tournament rests in the hands of your association, and trust you will endeavor to make it as grand a success as your association's name deserves to give it. F L PARKER

Secretary N W F Association

An official explanation of the action of the board of directors of the Firemen's Association changing the tournament has been mailed to Martin Wallace secretary of the Portland Volunteer Firemen's Association Mr Wallace was out of town yesterday so that it could not be learned whether the letter had been received or not He will be back to-day

Two Spirited Accidents at the Foot of Washington Street

Washington street was the scene of two lively runaways yesterday In the morning a horse harnessed to a cart and owned by J J Zirngiebel broke away from First and Washington streets and dashed down the sidewalk toward the river A collision with a post detached the cart and finally damaged it and the horse ran down on the dock where it was captured as printed in THE OREGONIAN this morning was true?"

"Yes, your honor" responded the officer "and not the half of it told then"

"Ninety days in the county jail" replied the judge, and turned to the next case.

Some one made application during the day for the $13 money found on Strain when arrested The judge, however ordered that the money should be subject to Mrs Strain and later in the day it was turned over to her

During the day a number of men and women called at the Strain dwelling and made proffers of aid, all of which were refused by Mrs Strain who it seems had taken offense at some portions of the story as published She said she needed no assistance and thanked all the ladies who called for their kindness This too, when there was not a bite or sup in the house She is very sensitive and feels the disgrace of her husband keenly The children all looked bright and clean last evening when a reporter called at the house, and Mrs Strain was resting easily Alexander Strain William's brother, who lives with the family will support the family and as one of the little girls said "We have the money now and everything is lovely"

IMPROVEMENTS AT COOS BAY.

Life in Every Industry—Two Hatcheries Wanted —Salmon Supply Decreasing

State Fish Commissioner E P Thompson has returned from a ten days trip to the Coos bay country He says the people of that part of Oregon are desirous of having two salmon hatcheries one to be located on the bay and the other on Coquille river Both should be able to turn out about 500 000 fish a season The run which averages 15 000 cases a season is decreasing, owing to the limited spawning grounds on the river and bay

Mr Thompson says that the Coos bay country looks thrifty and prosperous and some building is being done The coal mines of Newport three miles from Marshfield are working 100 men the output amounting to 5000 tons a month which would be increased but for the scarcity of miners

Considerable is doing in the sawmill line At Empire City the big mill of the Southern Oregon Improvement Company is being completed and will soon begin cutting 100 000 feet of lumber daily

Another mill is being built fronting on the bay between Marshfield and North Bend It will not be finished for several months Its capacity will be 60 000 to 75 000 feet a day

At Pleasant Point near Marshfield Ross Bros are building a saw mill with a capacity of 25 000 feet a day It will be finished in a few weeks

There is also much activity in vessel building Capt John Ross is working on a steamer at Pleasant Point eight miles from Marshfield It is 121 feet long, 32 feet beam 10 feet depth of hold and will have a speed of about twelve miles an hour The vessel will be finished about July 1 and will run on the California coast south from San Francisco where the steamer is owned

In a few days A M Simpson will launch a large steam lumber schooner from his yard at North Bend It will have a carrying capacity of between 60 000 and 70,000 feet of lumber

UNFOUNDED RUMORS.

Chairman Barin Gives Positive Denial to Reports Concerning a Political "Deal."

By yesterday morning's mail THE OREGONIAN received a letter from a well known republican of Douglas county asking this paper to state publicly whether there was any truth in a rumor that there was a deal between certain republican workers of Multnomah county looking toward the election of Gearin, democratic candidate for congress by sacrificing Hermann, Gearin in return to aid in the election of certain men on the republican legislative ticket This letter was presented yesterday afternoon to Hon F T Barin chairman of the republican state central committee by a reporter of THE OREGONIAN with the request that he give answer to it Mr Barin without the least hesitation said

This is not a new subject with me, but I am surprised that these rumors still find credence There is positively no truth in them, and I have taken occasion throughout the campaign to say so when asked. Shortly after I entered on the duties of chairman I heard these reports and received several letters from the interior inquiring about this alleged trade. I immediately took means to inform myself, and such means as that I could not possibly be deceived as to the actual status of affairs I found out after a most searching investigation that the republican workers are all working as faithfully for Hermann as for the rest of the ticket. You may say for me that I am convinced beyond a doubt that this is true and that there is not the least shadow of foundation for the rumors that there is collusion between republican workers and Gearin I will go still further I do not hesitate publicly to pledge my honor as chairman of the republican state central committee that no such collusion exists The theory will not hold good There is not the [illegible] for any such movement It is conceded that the Multnomah workers are men of brains and there is no object in having a deal It is absolutely necessary to elect Hermann and you will find that he will lead the republican ticket in Multnomah county

THE HOLLADAY PROPERTY

Stock of the Oregon Real Estate Association Sold for $200,000

The stock of the Oregon Real Estate Company, 1900 shares belonging to the estate of the late Ben Holladay was sold at auction at the courthouse door yesterday by G G Gammans receiver

Application was made to Judge Deady yesterday by A H Turner for an order to have the sale stopped till June 6 that the voluminous bill of review filed Wednesday might be argued The judge refused to interfere as he had no authority to do so the bill not being before him He remarked that he could not see why the Hollidays should not pay their bills as well as other people The stock was offered in lots of 100 shares without a bid and then in lots of 1000 shares but without a bid It was then offered as a whole and H Koehler bid $200 000 and the stock was knocked down to him

It is understood that the stock was bought in for the creditors and that there are capitalists from Montana in the city prepared to buy the property and that they will expend $50 000 in improving the Holladay addition to East Portland and will put it on the market

PROBABLY DROWNED

No Trace of a Child Who Has Been Missing Since Sunday.

The missing boy Jerry Love has not yet been found The river was dredged yesterday in the hope of at least finding the child's body Mr Love called at THE OREGONIAN office last night and made the following statement

I have heard a number of times on the street that it was more than likely that either I or my former wife Mrs Hollidee knew where the child [illegible] people have talked so [illegible] we have been divorced but I want to say that as far as the custody of the children is concerned we have never had any difficulty neither I or my former wife If the boy was at my house and wanted to go to his mother I always let him go and the same with Mrs H [illegible] this dreadfully I honestly believe [illegible] thing if the child is not discovered, she will go crazy if she does not die
